HERBERT PARSONS, G.O.P. LEADER, TO VOTE FOR COX

Member of Party's Executive Committee, 1916 to 1920, Declares He Is for the League.

DORT, REPUBLICAN, ALSO OUT FOR COX

Auto Manufacturer Sends $250 to Democrats, Announcing He's for Candidate Favoring League.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The bombshell Senator Harding threw into the Republican ranks by his flat rejection of the League of Nations and his reservations to prevent war, had its principal reaction here today in the resignation of Herbert Parsons, a Republican of national prominence, from the leadership of the county Republican committee. He declared himself as favoring the league covenant and therefore could not consistently support Senator Harding.
Parsons, a member of the Republican National Executive Committee from 1916 to 1920, announced his intention to vote for Gov. Cox, Democratic presidential nominee.
His announcement was made in a letter to the New York County Republican Committee, of which he once was chairman, resigning from that body. In his letter, Parsons said:
"I am for the League of Nations.
I am for 'going in.' Harding is not for 'going in,' though in the Senate he voted for 'going in.' So I am for Cox."

Also Man, Republican, to Vote for Cox for Presidency.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 8.—D. D. Dort, president of the Dort Motor Co., of Flint, Mich., and prior to that time connected with some of the largest automobile manufacturing firms in the country, a life-long Republican, has written a letter to Wilbur W.
Marsh, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, stating that he would vote for the Democratic nominee for the presidency. The letter to Treasurer Marsh is as follows:
"Enclosed please find my check for $250 for your campaign fund.
"I might say that my affiliations have always been with the Republican party and except for its stand up the League of Nations covenant as set forth in its platform this year and Mr. Harding's position on this question and his declared willingness to the establishment of peace with Germany by resolution of Congress, independent of and prior to the Senate's ratification of the peace treaty, I would not think of voting against him. I am a Republican standard-bearer but, believing conclusively that America should become a party to this covenant upon some basis that would be accepted by other nations parties thereto, and believing that the Republican dominate all others, either domestic or foreign, I am impelled by conscience to assist in supporting the party and voting for the nominee whose stand is clear upon that question."

Officials at Capital Speculate on Effect of Harding's Stand.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Senator Harding's decision to reject the League of Nations and his reservations to the Johnson-Dorah-Hearst element which is seeking to scrap the League of Nations. By the consent of both candidates the issue is now reduced to the simplest possible terms, League or no League. Gov. Cox is for accepting the League of Nations;
Harding is for rejecting it.
Official Washington speculated today on what former President Taft and former Attorney-General Wickham, friends of the league principle, will do now that the Republican candidate has put himself on record. A recent article by Taft in the Yale Review attacked the suggestion of starting "de novo" to form an association of nations.
Opinion as to Taft.
The opinion prevailed that Taft and other Republican leaders who have been supporting the league would continue to wear the party label, on the theory that the main issue was to get rid of the Democrati-cism. What would be the attitude of the rank and file of Republican friends of the league was seen as another question to be settled only at the polls in November.
Report here today is that Elihu Root, who helped to form the Court of International Justice to function under the league, would issue a statement about 10 days before the election, in which he would represent discussion of the league and urge Republicans of all shades of

$40,300 IN GOLD SEIZED IN 1917 RETURNED TO OWNERS

Money Was Found in Barrel in Hold of Spanish Steamer As It Cleared From Galveston to Barcelona.
By the Associated Press.
GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 8.—Forty thousand three hundred dollars in gold found in a barrel in the hold of the Spanish steamer Martin Saenz by custom officers in September, 1917, has been ordered restored to Jesus Fernandez, said to be a banker and merchant of Havana, Cuba, by Judge A. C. Hutchinson of the District Court of the Southern District of Texas.
The gold was seized after the vessel cleared for Barcelona, Spain, according to the records, Fernandez entrusted to a member of the crew of the Martin Saenz drafts drawn on a Galveston bank with instructions to exchange them for gold. Before the vessel arrived here, President Wilson issued a proclamation forbidding exportation of gold from the United States. The holder of the drafts having no knowledge of the proclamation, procured the gold, which was accepted in a pork barrel in the hold of the Martin Saenz in the event of an encounter with a German raider.

MAGSWEENEY SAID TO GASP AFTER SPEAKING ONE WORD

Lord Mayor of Cork More Exhausted, Relatives Say—Bulletin Tells of His Sleeping.
By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 8.—Lord Mayor Magsweeny of Cork, was more refreshed this morning at Brixton prison, having passed a fairly good night. He had some sleep, says a bulletin issued today by the Irish Self-Determination League, but to his relatives Magsweeny seemed weaker and more exhausted.
The Lord Mayor suffers great distress after speaking even a single word, the bulletin declared. He tries to whisper something, gasps and comes very exhausted and is unable to continue. This is the fifty-seventh day of Magsweeny's hunger strike.

BLIND BROOM MAKERS RUNNING INDEPENDENT SHOP

Former Workers at Factory Operated by State Commission Financed Enterprise Out of Their Savings

RESULT OF STRIKE OVER WAGE RATE

Five of Eight Men Who Quit Interested in Co-operative Plant, at 2764 Chouteau Avenue.

Striking unions at various times have announced their intention to start co-operative shops here in their own lines of trade, but it remained for five unorganized blind broom-makers, striking because of dissatisfaction over wages paid them at the State factory, Jefferson avenue and Howard street, to open what is probably the first such shop.
They financed the shop out of their own savings, and now perform all the operations of making straw brooms of all kinds. Each one can do any of the operations. All will share equally in the proceeds. The senior of the group is regarded by the others as the leader and they speak of him as "Dad."
"Dad" is John E. Kemp, 70 years old, of 2621 Chouteau avenue. "The boys just assume I know what to tell them," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter who visited the shop, known as the Independent Blind Broom Co. "They say to me, 'Dad, what do we do today?' and I do my best to tell them."

The others are William E. Douglas, 46, of 2221 Howard street; Fred Dugan and Lampe are married and live at 2764 Chouteau avenue; Arthur Allen, 49,
of 2611 Gravois avenue; and Louis
Freise, 43, of 2692 Howard street.
Dugan and Lampe are married and
live at 2764 Chouteau avenue; Arthur Allen, 49,
of 2611 Gravois avenue; and Louis
Freise, 43, of 2692 Howard street.

States Which Would Gain

If this precedent is followed this year five additional Representatives seats must be given to California, four each for New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan. Illinois, Indiana and Texas, two to Massachusetts, New Jersey and North Carolina, and one each to Alabama, Arizona, Connecticut, Georgia and Maryland.
Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Virginia, Arkansas and Minnesota.

Shop Financed Out of Savings.

"We financed this shop ourselves," said Kemp. "We started it out of our little savings. Investing about $350, all told. We are not a dollar in debt either. We pay cash for our materials, but later hope to get credit. Our rent is $20 a month."
The profit of the shop when we get going right should be $15 to $18 a day. That means at least $2 a day income for each of us, or $18 a week, twice what the State paid us. We can make five or six dozen brooms a day here, at least a dozen apiece. "Sighted" men can make twice that many, because they use power machines and we can't."
"We will sell the brooms for $7 to $10.50 a dozen, according to weight. Weight governs the price because we buy all the materials, except the wooden handles, by weight.
We use the best quality Illinois broomcorn. The commission charges more for the brooms we made there, because they can get more. People bought them as a matter of charity."
"We don't want charity. When we struck, a lady came to Lampe and said she had a lot of money idle in the bank and he was welcome to some of it. We had to refuse her.
For us there is no such word as "charity." We ask no concession on account of our eyes."

WEST AND SOUTH GAIN POLITICALLY UNDER THE CENSUS

Greater Proportionate Increase in Strength in Congress, Electoral Votes and Conventions Indicated.

MISSOURI LIKELY TO LOSE 2 CONGRESSMEN

Apportionment Basis, Under 1920 Population for Continental U. S. of 105,683, 108, Analyzed.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Examination of the final census figures of the country, which place the total population of the Continental United States at 105,683,108, indicates that the West and the South proportionately will gain more in a political way than the East or Middle West through increased membership in the House of Representatives, more votes in the electoral college and in larger delegations to the national political conventions.
This result will obtain whatever basis of apportionment is adopted by Congress next winter, fixing the size of the next House, which in turn is reflected in the electoral college and the conventions of the big political parties.

As a result of the increase of 13, 716,421 population, or 14.3 per cent, during the past 10 years, 59 new seats must be added to the House to prevent any State from losing any part of its present representation. For the past half a century the House has grown from 213 to 435 members, of 435 be left unchanged by increasing the basis of apportionment, there will have to be a transfer of 13 seats, now held by 12 States, to nine other States.
For the past half a century the precedent has been to increase the size of the House so as to prevent loss of existing representation by any State. As a result, the House has grown from 213 to 435 members, with only three States—Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont—losing one member each in the last 60 years.

EMPLOYES OF HOSIERY MILL WOULD ACCEPT WAGE REDUCTION

3500 Workers Make Proposal Hoping Lowell (Mass.) Plant Will Not Shut Down.
By the Associated Press.
LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 8.—Employees of the Lawrence Manufacturing Co., hoping to make it possible to continue operations at the company's hosiery and underwear mills here, have offered to accept a reduction in wages.
Agent Everett H. Walker said today that there is no market at present for the company's products, because of high prices, and that he was unable to act upon the employes' proposition at this time. Thirty-five hundred persons are employed in the hosiery and underwear departments. The underwear machines were shut down today and the hosiery workers will be laid off shortly, the agent announced.

President Sets Aside Nov. 14 as Armistice Sunday and Asks That Flags Fly at Half-Mast

PRESIDENT WILSON today directed that on Sunday, Nov. 14, the American flag be displayed at half-mast on all public buildings and naval and military posts "as a token of the nation's participation in the memorial services held for the heroic American soldiers, sailors, marines and others who gave their lives to their country in the world war."

In connection with the order, the President authorized this statement:
"There has been transmitted to me a suggestion that I name
Sunday, Nov. 14th, as armistice Sunday in order that the solemn thoughts of the minds of every American, memories of brave men who fell, sympathy for their living relatives, and those religious reflections in which nations, like individuals, must seek hope and consolation.
That Nov. 14, this year being the anniversary should be observed in all our churches by suitable memorial services for the heroic American soldiers, sailors and marines, who gave their lives to their country in the world war, seems to me eminently fitting and proper, and I commend the suggestion to those who conduct such services.
"I shall direct that the flag of the United States at all military posts, naval stations, vessels and on buildings of the United States be displayed at half mast on that day as a token of the nation's participation in the exercises elsewhere held."

HARDING OPPOSES GRANT OF GENERAL POLITICAL AMNESTY

Senator Declares Blanket Pardon for Such Prisoners Would Be No More Justified Than for Yeggmen.

'I HAVE NO SPECIFIC LEAGUE PLAN,' HE SAYS

Candidate Declares in St. Joseph That League's a Failure; Speaks in Kansas City Tonight.

By the Associated Press.

AUDITORIUM, ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 8.—Pleading for "a return of popular representative government" and repeating his appeal that the nation stay out of the Versailles League of Nations, Senator Harding declared in a speech here today that usurpation of power had caused the nation's chief trouble at home and abroad.

The nominee spoke to a crowd of several thousand in the St. Joseph Auditorium and his thrills at the Wilson administration were received with repeated applause. Before the speech Senator Harding rode through the streets of St. Joseph in an automobile parade. Cheers greeted him along the way and when he appeared on the Auditorium stage the audience got to its feet and roared a welcome.

Mrs. Harding also was introduced by the chairman and was given a chautauqua salute. He said the people should elect a Republican Congress. Senator Spencer, he declared, ought to be re-elected. Stating his position on the league, the nominee began by saying that "the Democratic nominee is in favor of accepting the Paris covenant for a League of Nations, and says he is 'I'm not'." He shouted, and the crowd rose to its feet and cheered.

No League With Article Ten. "I mean by that, that I as President will not submit a league or an association of nations with anything like article 10 in it," he added. "Under that article, when the league calls, America must respond or be guilty of gross international dishonesty, and I don't want a dishonest America. So I'm proposing that we make sure before we go in, rather than trying to sneak out afterward."

"I want America to do its part. I believe it's inevitable that there be some association of nations for the promotion of peace. I think that's likely; nay, more, I think it's right. But I want that association based on justice, not force. "The League of Nations as proposed by President Wilson—mark I say—that league, the league we're not going to have—sets up a militaristic power. It violates every fundamental principle of national freedom. Instead of adding safety to the world, it's the biggest threat of war ever proposed to mankind."

"Yet how our sympathies have been appealed to. It has been proposed that we take a mandate for Armenia. I know how appealing it was, but they didn't tell you that the other nations had taken all the valuable territory about Armenia, and had left for America only the suffering Armenians. In the Senate we found it would take 100 soldiers to carry out that task, and it would have involved us in all the quarrels of the world."

"The simple truth today is that although the league has been organized and is functioning, with 19 battlefronts a flame it hasn't amounted to a continental in European affairs. The league's a failure. They ask me if it has been scrapped—scrapped it has been scrapped—scrapped by President Wilson himself."

"They ask me if I have a specific plan. I have no specific plan, because it was a specific plan, and the insistence on that plan which scrapped President Wilson's league. There is no one man big enough for such a task. My specific duty will be to bring counsel together behind a plan which will command the support of a united country."

Senator Harding will speak tonight in the Kansas City convention hall. The nominee's voice showed today the strain of yesterday's vigorous campaigning, when he made 16 speeches in Iowa and Nebraska. Aside from the hoarseness, however, he seemed in fine trim and declared he was ready to meet any audience as could be reached by a fast train schedule.

With Mrs. Harding and the other members of his party, the presidential nominee will spend the night at an Omaha hotel, resting until later than his usual rising hour in the morning. Leaving Omaha shortly after 9 o'clock, his train is due in St. Joseph at 2:45 p. m., and at Kansas City at 5:30 p.

$20,000 SPENT BY G. O. P. IN SENDING VISITORS TO MARION

Senator New Says Trips to Harding's Front Porch Were Arranged in Lieu of Visits to Localities by Candidate.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—That the Republican National Committee, in bearing part of the expense of sending visiting delegations to the home of Senator Harding at Marion was acknowledged by members of the committee here today. These front porch pilgrimages, so far have cost the National Committee about $20,000, it was stated yesterday by Senator Harry New, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau, in response to inquiries by the Post-Dispatch correspondent.

When told of Democratic charges that the committee, through the Speakers' Bureau, was paying the expenses of the delegations, Senator New at first denied the report. Later, however, he recalled that the committee had paid "some of the incidentals" of the trips, and, in some cases, had actually paid the way of some persons when asked what these items totaled, he gave the estimated figure $20,000.

Senator New said he considered this expense entirely legitimate, as it took the place of sending speakers to the communities from which the delegations were sent. "Guarding Against 'Breaks'." One of the items of expense in this connection, said the Senator, is that of sending agents to places from which it is proposed to send delegations. Asked to describe the mission of these agents, he said that one of their duties was to "guard against the occurrence of untoward incidents" at Marion, "having particularly in mind the unfortunate expression of an overzealous but injudicious friend of the Republican candidate in 1916."

He was referring to the famous blunder of Dr. Burchard, whose praise of James G. Blaine as the foe of "rum, Romanism and rebellion" evoked a wave of anger and opposition to the league, and was largely responsible for Blaine's defeat. The quiet discontent and to keep the agitators within bounds. The candidate, speaking on law and order, declared his opposition to wholesale pardons for political prisoners, and reiterated his faith in the justice of deporting undesirable aliens.

Text in Part of Speech. Senator Harding, at Omaha, said in part: "I have been asked many times during this campaign whether I will grant general amnesty, as it is called, to political prisoners. My answer, I trust, is clear. I would not. A general grant of amnesty to political prisoners is no more justified than a general grant of amnesty to yeggmen. If there is any distinction between the danger of gunmen and political conspirators, I believe that most Americans will uphold me when I say it is the political conspirator who is the greater menace to the United States. "If there are political prisoners who are being punished unjustly, and who have been punished contrary to our spirit of fair play, I shall want to know it, and I shall want to take immediate action to restore justice to such men and women. I believe that I will wish to give freedom to any man or woman who has been unjustly accused of ordinary crime. In particular cases there may be special reasons for leniency, and I will be glad to consider them."

Pressure Under Emergency. "None of us can deny that in emergencies, of which war is one, there is an unusual pressure for the coercion and punishment of men and women who appear to be thwarting our joint efforts in such an emergency, or who menace our institutions. But these are cases which must be examined, each upon its merits. "Amnesty for prisoners, whether they be political prisoners or common prisoners, is a matter for human consideration, applied only for the purpose of correcting wrongs which have been done during a time of stress."

"We owe it to all those whom we have punished to call upon our wisdom, our tolerance, and our humanity, to deal with their special cases. "Many persons have fallen into errors in regard to the practice of deportation of undesirable aliens. On the one hand are those who believe that deportations constitute an offense against the spirit of American freedom, and on the other are those who would hasten to deport as many aliens as possible against whom they happen to have a fierce prejudice. In my attempt to arrive at a true position, I have been unable to find myself in agreement with either of these two points of view. I would like to make those persons who are opposed to any deportations of aliens see that if we may fairly and justly stop the undesirable alien as he attempts to enter our country, so also we have the right to lead him forth and send him away when he has become a menace to our country after his entry into it."

No Room for Treacherous Alien. "We must all surely share a resentment, sometimes intense, against the alien who seeks hospitality and the opportunities of America, only to turn about and sting the bosom of the nation which has welcomed him. Such an alien within our borders must be led to our gateways and told to go."

"Perhaps more tragic than offense against our laws are the offenses of injustice and of oppression which occur occasionally by the acts of those who are insincere or hasty in the enforcement of our laws. We being 'a little more generous' in his attitude toward minorities, he said, the Government could help to agents of the Speakers' Bureau took pains to see that no "breaks" of this kind occur during the front porch receptions, Senator New said. The correspondent inquired if this meant that the agents picked the members of the delegations and instructed them in what to say during the visits.

Senator New replied: "No unfair discrimination is being used. We are simply trying to conduct an intelligent campaign in an intelligent way." "How Trips Are Arranged." "Most of the expenses of the delegations," he said, "are paid by those who go. Most of the visits come about in this way: A request comes in here from some locality that wants Senator Harding to speak there. We tell them that it is impossible for the candidate to go to them, but maybe they can go to him. "Then we ask them what they propose to do if they should go to Marion, and what their purpose would be in going. If the reply is satisfactory, we send an agent to the place to make arrangements with the local leaders. It all costs money."

Asked how the expenses of the Speakers' Bureau had been up to date, the Senator refused to say, "I don't know, and I wouldn't tell you if I did," he said. "I don't feel that it's any of your business." From another source, however, it was learned that the budget of the National Committee allows $250,000 to the bureau. Senator New declined to tell the names of those who have had their expenses paid to Marion, or to say how much has been spent on individual delegations. He refused, also, to say which delegation had been so aided, except that he mentioned the woman's delegation that visited Marion, Oct. 1, as one.

He said that no separate account had been kept of the money spent in this way, but went in with other expenditures of the Speakers' Bureau.

COX SEES DANGER OF REACTIONARY SUPREMACY

Says Harding Would Give Control of Three Government Branches to "Oligarchy."

"HE'S AGAINST LEAGUE, AND I'M FOR IT"

Presidential Candidate in Kentucky, to Speak at Louisville Tonight; League Pledge to Mothers.

By the Associated Press.

EN ROUTE WITH GOV. COX, Oct. 8.—On his way to Louisville, where tonight he will wind up his two-day speaking campaign in Kentucky and Tennessee, Gov. Cox today addressed crowds that gathered at a number of way stations to greet him.

The Governor referred in his address last night at Nashville to Senator Harding's denunciation of the league, and expressed a willingness to accept the issue as stated by the Republican nominee.

"Now he's against the league, I'm for the league," Gov. Cox declared. The Democratic nominee left Nashville late last night.

United States Supreme Court. Effect of the presidential contest upon prospective United States Supreme Court vacancies was declared by Gov. Cox in an address at Paducah today, to be "the real danger of a reactionary victory, next to the scrapping of the League of Nations."

The Democratic presidential candidate stated that at least four vacancies on the high court were in prospect, and that to the Senate's control over confirmations and to Senator Harding as the "reactionary" candidate, he added:

"It would naturally follow that a reactionary President would appoint reactionary members of the Supreme Court. "Effect of the presidential contest upon prospective United States Supreme Court vacancies was declared by Gov. Cox in an address at Paducah today, to be "the real danger of a reactionary victory, next to the scrapping of the League of Nations."

The Governor declared this was one of the reasons why "the senatorial oligarchy" should be defeated. "There are several reasons why the Senate oligarchy should not be permitted to win this election," he said. "Throughout the years, the Senate has trespassed on the authority of the people. The Constitution provides that all legislation providing for the raising of revenue shall be initiated in the House. Yet there has probably not been a tariff measure in the last 10 years which was not changed in its every line after the enacting clause once it reached the Senate. By the nomination of one of its own members as the reactionary candidate for the presidency, it now has the opportunity of annexing the executive department."

Platform Falls With Cox. At Bowling Green yesterday a low platform of loose planks broke down just as the Governor concluded his address. The candidate and several guests were shaken by the drop of about three feet.

To his Kentucky audience Gov. Cox urged re-election of Senator Buckham of Kentucky, who, the Governor said, had stood "four square" on the league issue. In championing the league, Gov. Cox in a religious vein, referred to it as "a holy and solemn plan of bringing war to an end," and reiterated support is given to it by all church organizations.

Answering the argument that the league would impair American sovereignty, Gov. Cox said that all nations would sit about a table and sign the same agreement, adding: "And if we sign away our sovereignty to them, they are signing away sovereignty to us."

"DEMOCRATS HAVE SMOKED HARDING OUT," WHITE SAYS

"He Has Apparently Scrapped League and Also Lodge Reservations," Chairman Declares.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in a statement issued today declared that "the Democrats have smoked Senator Harding out and he is now a member of the League of Nations issue in the campaign clear."

"He has apparently scrapped the league and along with it the Lodge reservations," White's statement added. "Also, frankly, I am amazed at Senator Harding's reiteration in his statement, 'I have a sympathetic feeling for Irish freedom. I voted that way in the United States Senate.'"

"On July 29, 1916, when the Senate was divided on the issue of British citizenship for Great Britain toward Irish political prisoners, Harding voted against it. On Nov. 18, 1919, he voted against a resolution of sympathy for Ireland. On March 18, 1920, he voted against the Gerry resolution adhering to the 'principle of self-determination and to the original Senate resolution of sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people for a Government of their own choice.'"

"He did this after voting to lay the resolution on the table, and this failing to consummate it. On the original resolution of sympathy for Ireland the record discloses that he dodged that vote by absenting himself from the chamber and on every other vote to give due consideration to the Irish problem he voted 'no.'"

Personal Contributions. Though the note was paid by the Dayton Metal Products Company, Talbot said he did not consider it a contribution by the corporation but a personal one by himself. Talbot also said he did not consider contributions made by the company to the $27,000 election fund of 1918 other than personal contributions by himself, Col. E. A. Deeds and C. F. Kettering, officers of the company. The money, he said, was contributed solely to carry on a campaign for preservation of the flood protection law.

BENTON, Ill., Oct. 8.—Henry Bobbello and Pete Secco, two of the five men who robbed the State Bank at Valer, Ill., on June 14 last, escaping with nearly $10,000, were found guilty in Circuit Court here last night, the verdict carrying a sentence in the penitentiary of from 10 years to life.

The robbers had anticipated getting $100,000 to be used in paying off the Valer miners on June 15, which they supposed had arrived from a St. Louis bank. However, the payroll money did not reach them until later. The men forced Cashier S. H. Long and his assistant into the vault and were out of town before an alarm was given.

EXPLANATION OF COX $5000 NOTE GIVEN

Member of Dayton Metal Products Company Tells of City Commission Campaign.

By the Associated Press. DAYTON, O., Oct. 8.—That the Dayton Metal Products Co. paid the $5000 note which Gov. Cox, Democratic presidential candidate gave to the City National Bank of Dayton in 1917, was testified to by H. E. Talbot, president of the company, at the Senate subcommittee hearing today.

Talbot explained in detail why the company paid the note, asserting that, through an effort of many Dayton citizens to elect suitable members of the Dayton City Commission, conference between Democrats and Republicans were held in an effort to agree upon candidates. He said that after the election of Gov. Cox, Democratic presidential candidate gave to the City National Bank of Dayton in 1917, was testified to by H. E. WEEKKAMP AND
SPENCER OPPOSED
ON LABOR'S BALLOT

Hiram Lloyd, Conway Elder and John I. Williamson Also Scratched by A. F. of L. Committee Here.

ROAD BOND ISSUE
GETS INDORSEMENT

Bogy and Rosenfeld, Congressional Candidates, Disapproved—Hyde and Atkinson Both Indorsed.

Opposition of union labor to United States Senator Seiden P. Spencer, two candidates for Congress and four candidates for State offices, besides a number of nominees for city offices and State representative, was registered last night by the St. Louis branch of the American Federation of Labor Nonpartisan Political Campaign Committee, which issued an approved list of candidates to guide union members in voting at the general election Nov. 2.

Senator Spencer was scratched and his Democratic opponent, Breckinridge Long, placed upon the same ballot to be circulated, because Spencer voted for the Esch-Cummins railroad law.

No presidential electors were indorsed, but Cox and Roosevelt, the Democratic nominees for President and Vice President, have been approved, as has been told by the Missouri branches of the National Nonpartisan Committee, in line with the indorsement given by national officers of the federation, and union men here will be urged to support them.

Candidates for State offices scratched were Hiram Lloyd of St. Louis, Republican nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, objected to because of a dispute with carpenters several years ago; Conway Elder of St. Louis, Republican nominee for the Supreme Court, Division 1, opposed because he failed to support the State federation bill for the men's compensation, after he is said to have promised to support it; George H. Middelkamp, Democratic nominee for State Treasurer, opposed because his opponent is a union man; John I. Williamson, Democratic nominee for the Supreme Court, Division 2, opposed because of a judicial opinion he is said to have written in a pending case.

Atkinson and Hyde Approved. Though John M. Atkinson, Democrat, and Arthur M. Hyde, Republican, nominees for Governor, both have the approval of the committee, the name of neither will appear upon the sample ballot when printed, it having been left to voters to use their own judgment.

Bernard P. Bogy, Republican nominee for Congress in the Eleventh District, was scratched by the committee because of a controversy he had with union musicians in regard to the Pageant Theater a few years ago and because of his "manner of answering inquiries in regard to several other matters," according to T. E. Ehenbeck, secretary of the body.

Samuel Rosenfeld, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Twelfth District, was disapproved because he failed to respond to the committee questionnaire. This same neglect caused a number of other nominees to fall under the ban, among them Edward L. Kuhs, Republican nominee for Alderman in the First Ward. Two other aldermanic nominees failed to get a place on the ballot. William G. Alexander, Democrat, Seventeenth Ward, whose attitude toward unions is questioned, and George Meisinger, Republican, Tenth Ward, who is a foreman with some Wrought Iron Range Co., which has had a controversy with organized labor.

John W. Dunn Disapproved. John W. Dunn, Republican nominee for City Treasurer, was left off because he lives at the American Annex, said by organized labor to be unfair to unions.

Two proposed amendments to the Missouri Constitution, to be voted upon Nov. 2, will be upon the labor ballot. One of them, No. 5, would enable the State Legislature to issue $10,000,000 in road bonds and the other, No. 15, would provide for the calling of a constitutional convention.

Twenty speakers will visit the various unions to urge their members to support the candidates approved, and 15,000 sample ballots will be distributed.

List of Candidates Approved. The list of State, St. Louis and St. Louis County candidates approved is as follows: United States Senator—Breckinridge Long (D.). Governor—Arthur M. Hyde (R.). John M. Atkinson (D.). Lieutenant-Governor—Charles M. Buford (D.). Secretary of State—Charles U. Becker (R.). John L. Sullivan (D.). State Auditor—George E. Hackmann (R.). State Treasurer—L. D. Thompson (R.). John H. Stone (D.). Attorney-General—Jesse W. Barner (R.). Willis H. Meredith (D.). Judge, Supreme Court, Division No. 1, unexpired term—William T. Ragland (D.). Judge, Supreme Court, Division 2, unexpired term—Edward Higbee (R.). Judge, Supreme Court, full term—

Dr. Eliot Calls Foes of the Treaty
"Extraordinarily Narrow-Minded"

Selfish Policy They Have Adopted Towards the World Out of Enmity to President Wilson Deplored by Harvard's President.

By DR. CHARLES W. ELIOT, President Emeritus of Harvard University.

(Reprinted from the October Atlantic Monthly by Special Arrangement)

THE Post-Dispatch heretofore presents the fourth installment of the article in the October Atlantic Monthly, on "The Voter's Choice in the Coming Election." The fifth and concluding installment will be presented tomorrow.

THE objections urged against the treaty and covenant by the group of Senators who have defeated ratification are extraordinarily narrow-minded and selfish. One would think that they had never perceived the prodigious changes in the civilized world since Washington used the phrase "entangling alliances" that they had not felt the exaltation of the American spirit when the people went to war with Germany to protect the free nations from the Prussian autocracy, to defend the weaker nations against the stronger, to make right triumph over wrong, and to inaugurate in the future such war as Germany was waging upon the free nations of Europe. They appealed during the treaty and covenant to only the selfish side of the American character. They urged the people to make no more sacrifices for liberty and justice in the world, to save their own property, and to share their resources in the future with no other nation, not even with their recent comrades-in-arms. They would have none of co-operation between the American Republic and the other free nations, to make the world a better place for the rising generation to live in. They had no faith in the magnanimity and disinterestedness of the American people. What an incredibly low estimate of the moral quality of the American people these men formed, right in the face of the sacrifice the young men and the fathers and mothers of America made between April, 1917, and November, 1918! One of the most outrageous of their slanders against the people of the United States was their statement that Americans would never accept any mandate on behalf of Armenia.

No Doubt of Issue. Now the Republican platform indorses the language and the conduct of the Senators who defeated the ratification. It says outright, "We commend the Republican Senate for its refusal to ratify the treaty, and we empower him to accept the mandate for Armenia." And again, "No more striking illustration can be found of President Wilson's disregard of the lives of American boys or of American interests and action." And again, "We deeply sympathize with the people of Armenia and stand ready to help them in all ways; but the Republican party will oppose now and hereafter the acceptance of a mandate for their country in Europe or Asia." One of the most interesting questions at the coming election is whether the majority of the American voters, or the majority of the members of the House of Representatives (if the election is thrown into the House), has become so degraded as to accept that teaching of Republican Senators and the Republican platform, and so to reject the treaty and the Republican platform about President Wilson.

Wilson's Fame for Future. Many established members of the Republican party, both old and young, are going to feel great difficulty in voting for the Democratic candidate for the presidency next November, even though they earnestly desire the prompt ratification of the covenant and treaty, and the entrance of the United States into the beneficent work of the League of Nations, because they have somehow acquired an utter distrust of the character and conduct of President Wilson. They are convinced that he is insincere, or shift; that while his sayings are apt to be sound, his doings are apt to be unsound; that he chooses his counsel badly; that his nature is cold and inconstant in spite of his much talk about justice, mercy, courage and good will; and that he is utterly incapable of attaching to himself able men as disciples or ardent followers. This picture of President Wilson is accepted by a large proportion of Republicans and by some Democrats. Those who have not believed in him but who have voted for Gov. Cox, because he is the heir to President Wilson's policies and public doings, although he holds himself free to depart from or modify the President's recent line of conduct in respect to the ratification of the covenant and treaty. They can hardly bring themselves to do so for a measure or a principle which is attributable to President Wilson. Their aversion to his personality overcomes every other consideration. It may fairly be urged, however, upon all voters, old and young, Republican and Democrat, that President Wilson's character and conduct are not practical issues in the coming election. He is a forceful statesman, and the world is waiting for his policy, character and conduct should not affect the voter's desire or purpose to use his own vote in the interest of his country and the world. President Wilson's policy and ideals are the main issue, not his personality. History will give him much later his rightful place.

MAN SHOT 4 TIMES
BY CLERK IN FIGHT
IN LOBBY OF HOTEL

Seriously Wounded in Market Street Place, He Says Other, Who Admits Shooting, Was Not Assailant.

HAS BEEN ARRESTED
SEVERAL TIMES

Timothy Sullivan Said to Have Entered Congress Hotel and Started Upstairs—Fight Following.

Timothy Sullivan, 28 years old, of 2223 Mulanphy street, who had been arrested several times in connection with the operations of "gangs," was shot four times and seriously wounded at 11:10 o'clock last night in the lobby of the Congress Hotel, 1508 Market street, by John F. Campbell, night clerk of the hotel. At the city hospital this morning surgeons said his chances for recovery were slight.

Though Campbell admitted the shooting and surrendered to the police, Sullivan, at the city hospital, refused to identify Campbell, and said to policemen: "You ought to know better than ask me that question. That's not the man that shot me." Sullivan yesterday was released on an $800 bond on a charge of having assaulted Joseph Rush of Mineral Point, Mo., on Fourteenth, near Chestnut street, early yesterday. Rush said he and three other young men were walking in Fourteenth street when Sullivan jumped from an automobile and beat him on the head with a billiard cue.

The police believe Sullivan thought Campbell was a police informant and went to the hotel to pick a quarrel. Campbell recently reported to the police that he had seen a close friend of Sullivan loitering about the hotel and feared a robbery plot.

Campbell Tells of Shooting. In a statement after the shooting Campbell said he was alone in the hotel office about 11 p. m. when Sullivan entered and started upstairs without a word. Campbell said he called to Sullivan and asked him where he was going. Sullivan, he said, came down the stairs and said: "Where's Flannigan?"

"Nobody of that name is stopping here," said Campbell. "Well, I'm Flannigan," said Sullivan, according to Campbell's account. Campbell said Sullivan then struck him in the face, and he picked up a piece of broomstick from behind the desk and struck Sullivan on the head. Sullivan wrestled the stick from him and struck him with it several times, he said.

Fearing that he would be overpowered, Campbell said, he took a revolver from under the counter and fired twice. When Sullivan continued to beat him, he said, he fired twice more.

"I'll quit now," said Sullivan, as quoted by Campbell. Sullivan ran out and asked John Schaeffer, a deputy sheriff, to take him to the city hospital. The police did not know of the shooting until after Sullivan arrived at the hospital in Schaeffer's machine. Sullivan was shot twice in the abdomen, once in the left hip and in the right arm.

Arrested Several Times. Sullivan was arrested March 4, 1919, when a policeman stopped him and another man at Spring avenue and Olive street. The other man fled. A revolver was found on a lawn near where the arrest was made. Sullivan was held for a time for investigation, but no charge was made against him.

Early in the morning of May 29, 1919, policemen chased several men in an automobile after they had heard an explosion at Compton avenue and Olive street. In the pursuit many shots were exchanged, and Patrolman Louis Haas was wounded. The policemen found the machine disabled in the street, with Sullivan, apparently dazed, in the rear seat. He denied he knew anything of the shooting. Several men were arrested, but there was no evidence on which to base warrants.

Recently, when policemen were following clues on the robbery of a Missouri Pacific mail train, they went to a rooming house on North Fifteenth street, where Sullivan was known to spend part of his time. They found a whisky still on the back porch of a creek bank in the center of the city and supposed to contain powerful explosives was only a discarded piece of fireworks.

OUR desire is to supply every man who comes to the department with one of these fine Overcoats, but we urge men to come early tomorrow for it is the last day and the last Coat will no doubt be sold before the day is finished; but let us state one fact clearly—the man who buys the last Coat at $38.75 will get just as much satisfaction from the purchase as the man who bought the first Coat. VERDICT FOR JURY
IN SUIT AGAINST

Jury Decides Against Who Sought $37,000
Over Fight

A jury today returned a verdict for the plaintiff, favor of Police Judge Mix, who was being sued for $37,000 by Alex H. Asadorian, a 4830 Olive street, who in the face of his counsel, the jury found that they had a half hour's report for half an hour's work by which they were ready to report work.

The incident took place when Mix was on the rug dealer in the latter's office, which was a reference to a case of Asadorian, a "red" who had been in the face of his counsel, the jury found that they had a half hour's report for half an hour's work by which they were ready to report work.

VERDICT FOR JUDGE MIX IN SUIT AGAINST HIM

Jury Decides Against Rug Dealer Who Sought $37,500 Damages Over Fight in Court.

A jury today returned a verdict in favor of Police Judge George E. Mix, who was being sued in the Circuit Court for $37,500 damages by Alex H. Asadorian, a rug dealer at 4330 Olive street, whom Mix struck in the face with his fist during the trial of a case in which Mix was counsel. The jury was out one and a half hours. Mix, testifying yesterday, contended that he acted in self-defense.

A bailiff who went to the jury room at the end of an hour and a half to take the jurors to lunch, found that they had been ready to report for half an hour, but the buzzer by which they give notice of being ready to report had failed to work.

Fight in Court 3 Years Ago.
The incident took place three years ago when Mix was cross-examining the rug dealer in the trial of a suit between the latter and Dr. T. M. Suran, which was being heard by Judge Clarence Case. Mix had accused Asadorian "of changing his testimony after being caught in a lie" to which, according to Mix, Asadorian arose and exclaimed, "Me no lie—you lie."

"Both of his fists," said Mix, "were flying or swinging close to my face and I struck him." Mix denied that he had on brass knuckles and said he did not know what they look like, as he never had seen any. Asadorian previously testified he did not provoke the assault and that he made no menacing move toward Mix, but merely stated that he had told an untruth. A bone on the side of his face was broken by the blow, he said.

Mix Denies Being Boxer.
Randolph Laughlin, attorney for the plaintiff, tried to show that Judge Mix was an athlete and physically Asadorian's superior. Mix, in answer to questions by the lawyer, denied that he had been champion belian club swinger and gymnast at Yale or that he was an adept boxer. "I never had on boxing gloves in my life, but as a boy I was in several fights in which I received a black eye," he said. Mix testified that he has been lame in one foot since he was seven years old. He walks with a cane.

Charles E. Morrow, who was associated with Mix in the Suran case, testified that Asadorian stood up in a menacing attitude before Mix struck him. "Once during the trial Asadorian grabbed me by the arms," the witness said. Morrow denied that he and Mix had been unusually severe in their cross-examination.

Reading Road Must File Its Plan.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The Federal Court here today handed down a decree ordering the Reading company to file within ninety days a plan of dissolution of the alleged combination of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Co., the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Co., in accordance with the decision of the United States Supreme Court, rendered last spring.

PREMIER SAYS IRISH OWE MUCH TO COALITION POLICY

Lloyd George in "Liberal Magazine" Declares It Has Restrained Unionists and Saved Ireland From Far Worse Home Rule Situation.

Special Cable to Post-Dispatch and New York World.
LONDON, Oct. 8.—The first number of the "Lloyd George Liberal Magazine" made its appearance yesterday with 10 of its 60 pages given to a special interview with the Prime Minister by Harold Spender. The Premier plunges at once into a broad and emphatic defense of his coalition policy, asserting that if there had been no coalition the situation in regard to home rule for Ireland would be far worse than now.

"If party warfare had been removed on the initiative of the Liberal party," he says, "the Unionist party would have been tempted to resist the new policy with the full power of its old hostility to home rule, and such hostility would have been strengthened by Ireland's record in the later years of the war. I do not wish to go back to that period, but it contains some serious blots. Would not the Unionist party have reminded us of the championship which the Sinn Féin gave to Germany at a critical moment of the struggle?"

"Why, the irreconcilable section of the Unionist papers, voiced through the Morning Post, is even now giving us that reminder day by day. If we had no coalition that protest would have been the prevailing voice of the Unionist opposition and we would have been further from an Irish settlement than we are today." "But the Asquithians allege," the interviewer said, "that if they had come into power they would have carried a dominion home rule measure which would be an advance in any Irish policy yet promoted by a British Government. What do you say to that?"

"Refused to Explain 'Home Rule'." "Well," the Premier replied, "I asked Asquith in the House of Commons to tell me what he meant by 'dominion home rule' and he refused to reply. I do not think that was quite fair or worthy of his great parliamentary reputation. It is very well for the opposition to play with terms. They can talk in phrases, while it is necessary to talk in acts of Parliament. They can speak at large of self-determination and dominion home rule. I have put all of those things into the clauses of the bill."

"What is your difficulty with dominion home rule?" Spender asked. "There is a difficulty regarding the army and navy," the Premier said. "Does the opposition intend to give Ireland, as it stands at present, full control of its military and naval affairs? Otherwise, the proposal ceases to be for dominion home rule in the sense in which that phrase is accepted throughout the empire. The term then becomes a form of deception."

"Dominion Control of Taxation." "Putting aside the naval and military side of the argument, upon which, apparently, the Independent Liberals in their hearts really agree with you," Mr. Spender went on, "what of the dominion control of taxation; what is your opinion of the feasibility of giving Ireland complete control of her taxation?" "As to that," the Premier replied, "I ask if the business men of Manchester and Glasgow will be willing to pay six shillings on the pound in income tax, while the business men in Belfast pay two shillings? Is the workman in England going to pay eight shillings on a pound of tobacco while the workman in Ireland pays only six pence?"

"If Ireland is to be let off from her share of the war debt, that is what it amounts to; and if you give her control of her taxation, you face the certainty of her doing so." "Do our opponents really take the position that Ireland refused in 1916 to take her full share in fighting for the liberties of a little Catholic country in Europe while Irishmen throughout the world took their share? Are Irishmen in Ireland to have special privileges in regard to taxation resulting from the war? It seems to me difficult to answer that question with a hearty affirmative and I doubt if the British people will do so when they are right up against it."

"But suppose Ireland were willing to make a fair financial bargain such as Parnell contemplated with Gladstone," the questioner continued. "Always recognizing the mutual moral obligations of both countries, in view of their past and present history, placing, shall I say, the war debt on one side and the admitted overtaxation of Ireland on the other. Would you contemplate such a bargain?"

"Fair Financial Bargain." "Ah," the Premier responded, "if some one entitled to speak for Ireland were to say: 'Very well, we are prepared to take our fair share of the obligations incurred by those islands' supposing we were asked to accept a fair and firm bargain with men whose word could be trusted; then it would be a different matter."

"But if we are to be told: 'Give us the customs, the customs and the income tax; and we are to receive no guarantee of any kind in return, then you place Great Britain in an impossible financial position. Ireland would become a privileged country. We would still remain responsible to posterity for her defense, and yet she would no longer pay for it.'"

"We cannot cut the painter," the Premier rejoined. "The dominion policy as now put forward would leave us in a terrible position. My point at the present moment is this: Whatever the merits or demerits of a dominion Irish policy, could the Liberal party carry out such a policy by party methods alone? What could that party carry a united Ireland? But that party is more deeply pledged against that than we are, because Asquith was the first Liberal Prime Minister to pledge himself against coercing Ulster, and Ulster would not have to be very seriously coerced."

"Dominion home rule; do they say that? I do not believe that in their hearts they have the smallest assurance that they could carry dominion home rule, even if they had a majority in the House of Commons."

A speeding automobile crashed through both crossing gates of the Missouri Pacific railroad at the Tesson street crossing on Broadway at 7:30 p. m., yesterday, wrecking both gates but apparently not damaging the machine, as it kept on going. The watchman at the crossing told the police he had lowered the gates, awaiting the approach of a passenger train, when the auto crashed through before the train came in sight.

Republican National Committee Sending Out Flood of 'Literature' of Insinuation Against Wilson

Pamphlets Casting Opprobrium Upon President by Innuendo and by Grotesque Gibes Circulated.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Typical of the flood of charges and insinuations being let loose by the Republican National Committee in the effort to discredit President Wilson is a pamphlet entitled "Mr. Wilson at Court," which seeks to convey the impression that the President willfully squandered hundreds of thousands of dollars on his trip to Europe to help negotiate the peace treaty.

The pamphlet is of a piece with that other from the committee which instructs speakers always to refer to the League of Nations as "Mr. Wilson's League." This one is labeled "Speakers' Series No. 12," and bears the imprint of the Republican National Committee, Washington, D. C., 1920. It is obviously designed to furnish ammunition to Republican spellbinders. Between its contents and the remarks attributed to Senator Spencer in a recent speech at Cape Girardeau, where he said the President took fiddlers to entertain him on his journey, there is a marked resemblance.

Sub-Captions on Cover Page.
Under the main title on the cover page of the pamphlet are these sub-captions in large type:

"Royal Pageantry and Dazzling Splendor—A Suite of 1400."
"Fifteen Million Dollars in Gold Flats."

"A Dream of Magnificence and Expense From New York to London and From London to Paris, Where the League of Nations Was Born in All the Pomp of Imperialism."

In black type is printed one of the diatribes delivered against the President in the Senate by Senator Sherman of Illinois. In this address the scorpion-tongued Sherman, one of the bitterest of the Wilson haters, berated the President because, he said, the cables from Europe were so crowded with press messages describing the President's European tour that "sleepless mothers" and "despairing fathers" were unable to get news of their boys at the front.

"I wish to compare the zinc cans out of which the American soldier is fed," said Sherman, "with the $15,000,000 solid gold plate service and the tinned mahogany table from which the President and Rear Admiral Grayson are feasting in London."

Used as Speakers' Guide.
This is a fair sample of Sherman's innuendoes which the Republican committee is now circulating as a guide to speakers for further attacks on the President.

Leaving Sherman, the writer of the pamphlet strikes out on his own account.

"President Wilson, on his first return from Europe to the United States," he says, "delivered an address in Boston. He referred, quite inadequately, of course, to the adulation with which he was received in the royal halls and the sybaritic saloons of Europe, and added:

"Was there ever so wonderful a thing seen before? Was there ever so moving a thing?"

"The rapture expressed by the President was proof that the splendor of court life had moved him very deeply and had taken possession of his thought. He beheld the glitter, the obsequiousness, the flattery, and apparently thought it genius. So he exclaimed, at first sight of the plain men and women of America, 'was there ever so wonderful a thing seen before?'"

Address Misinterpreted.
Now, anyone who heard or read the President's Boston address knows that by no possible straining of the President's language could such an interpretation fairly be placed upon his words. The President did not refer to the "adulation" accorded him in the royal halls of Europe. He spoke of the manner in which the peoples of Europe received him as a representative of the United States and he thought it a wonderful thing that they should look so hopefully and trustingly toward America. Those were not his exact words but they express something of the spirit of the address. It is not possible that Calvin Coolidge, who presided over the meeting, could sanction the construction now placed on the President's language by the Republican National Committee.

"He Dreamt He Dwelt in Marble Halls," is the pamphlet writer's title for a description of the scene when the President was given a state dinner in Buckingham Palace. A newspaper account of the dinner is quoted, and with this as a text the pamphleteer draws heavily on his stock of adjectives to give the impression, by innuendo, that the President's head was turned. This comment on the item in the news account that the President sat with his back to the throne, the pamphlet writer for the Republican committee asks: "Could that have been the wise precaution on the part of the intensely practical hosts? In that moving scene would the presence of the throne right straight ahead have moved the American President? Who can say?"

Street Parade Described.
Again, telling of a street procession, the writer remarks that "halberds reflected the brilliant sunshine in dazzling bursts of light from their brilliant uniforms straight into the eyes of the American President."

There is much more of the same sort. A news description of the study provided for the President in Paris furnishes occasion for the sub-title, "Cupid and Psyche There, Too," because it happened that above the President's desk was a painting of Cupid and Psyche.

"Money in a golden stream" is said to have flowed from the Americans in Paris. The last chapter of this delectable document of instruction to Republican speakers is headed "Pageants, Hysterics and the Heart of the World" and the florid text lives up to the promise of the title. The President is said to have "returned home to the plain American people with the arrogance of an autocrat."

"Was this," asks the writer, "the great danger which they (Washington, Adams, Jefferson and Monroe)

foresew lurking in the path of the republic at some distant day? "It was! It was!"

Even more insidious than this speaker's pamphlet, whose grotesque statements carry their own refutation, is a publication entitled "From the Four Corners to Washington," written by Cyrus Cole, an Iowa editor, and circulated with the imprint of the Speakers' Bureau of the Republican National Committee.

Published by Torch Press.
Appropriately enough, the book is published by the Torch Press, for the contents are well calculated to breed the same resentment against government that is fostered by the street corner "red" from his soap box.

In fiction form, the writer seeks to build up the impression that American soldiers were deliberately sacrificed in the interest of profiteers; that the administration openly countenanced waste under the cost-plus system in order to enrich its favorites; that there was no need of wartime operations of the railroads.

The book reeks with stuff of this sort: "Court-martials, dad," spoke up the Lieutenant (one of the characters in the story), "are for boys who fall asleep on duty, not for officers."

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

who are wide-awake in the interest of their friends."

The Lieutenant "hero" of this book, apparently circulated by the Republican National Committee, is made to say to his mother and others in the course of the story: "Yes, the Government, through its systems, bribed everyone to do his duty in the war except the private soldier, whose services were commandeered. They gave him his bed and board and a little pocket money and then stood him up to be shot at."

The utter banality of the book would repel any person of discernment, but in the hands of readers of less acute perception it might be positively incendiary.

76 TAXPAYERS REMONSTRATE AGAINST CHARTER FOR EUREKA

Incorporation Petition Withdrawn After It Is Discovered Some of Signatures Are Not Legal.

A petition which was filed Sept. 23 in the County Court at Clayton requesting that the town of Eureka be permitted to incorporate as a village or as a city of the fourth class, was withdrawn yesterday, after a remonstrance signed by 76 taxpayers of the town had been presented to the Court.

Attorney James Booth of Pacific, Mo., representing those favorable to incorporating, explained to the Court that a mistake had been made in drawing up the petition, and that it had been discovered that many of the 67 signers of the petition reside outside the boundary lines proposed in their incorporation scheme.

It was disclosed that some of the signers of the original petition live in what is known as North Eureka, a district that is not involved in the proposition to incorporate. A petition to incorporate requires the signatures of two-thirds of the taxable inhabitants, and, barring those in North Eureka, the petition did not contain sufficient signatures.

Those desiring incorporation say that the electric light power has been shut off because not enough money was subscribed to pay for it, and they want the town incorporated so that a tax for electric lighting can be levied.

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

OBJECTS TO RELEASE OF 'HARD BOILED' SMITH

Congressman Makes Public Letter of Protest to Secretary Baker.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Congressman Frederick W. Dallinger yesterday made public correspondence with Secretary of War Baker regarding his protest against the parole of Lieut. Frank H. (Hard Boiled) Smith, who was found guilty of cruelties to the soldiers of the A. E. F. at prison camps in France.

"It is true that you are responsible for 'Hard Boiled' Smith's parole, it simply means that your conception of justice is sadly distorted," the Congressman wrote. He made this statement, he said, because of his intimate knowledge of the trial of Smith, and of conditions recently called to his attention that "men who have shown no vicious tendencies, but who have simply committed infractions of military discipline, are still suffering punishment."

He cited one case in which a soldier who struck a sergeant while intoxicated is still serving a sentence reduced from 25 years to five years, adding that "it is a travesty on justice to keep him behind the bars until he is entitled to parole under the law; and at the same time parole Smith because authority exists in his case."

Gen. Peyton C. March, former chief of staff, admitted before the congressional investigating committee, Dallinger wrote, that "cruelties worse than were ever known in the Siberian prison camps under the Czar had been perpetrated on our boys in the A. E. F. prison camps in Farm No. 2, at 10 Rue St. Anne, Paris, and at the so-called Bastille. Only one of the officers responsible has been found guilty. A great majority of them were given honorable discharge. The only officer punished was Smith, and you have seen fit to make it possible for him to escape part of his ridiculously light sentence, if the reports you have not denied are true."

LONG AGAIN CHARGES

SPENCER FALSIFIED

Declares Senator Misquoted
President and Article in Magazine.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEOSHO, Mo., Oct. 8.—Breckinridge Long, Democratic nominee for the United States Senate, speaking here yesterday, charged again, as he did at Aurora and at Marshfield Wednesday and at Lebanon the day before, that Senator Spencer had misquoted President Wilson. Long directed attention to the fact that Spencer had stated that the "President absolutely bound the United States" when any sensible person, Long said, knows that no President can bind the United States without the consent of the Congress or the concurrence of the Senate specifically given, and it was this misstatement the President said was false.
Long continued, by saying that Spencer not only had made that ridiculous statement, but had quoted from an article in the May Century Magazine which contained what purported to be a statement attributed to the President, but it only partially quoted his remarks and itself indicated by asterisks that it was an incomplete quotation. The context, Long said, placed an entirely different meaning on the statement which had the following object: The President was demanding settlements for peace which would be just and righteous, and which would have all the prospect of permanency, and insisted that America demanded settlements which would be satisfactory to America and which America considered just because America did not want to send her armies back to Europe or anywhere else, but might have to do so in the future as she had in 1917, if any improper settlements were made which would be the cause of war in the future.

Long again stigmatized the statement of Spencer as false and interpreted to mislead and characterized the entire Republican campaign as being a fabric of misstatements and misrepresentations interspersed with falsifications of Democratic records and abuse of Democratic officials.

NEGRO YOUTH, JUST OUT OF PRISON, CAUGHT IN BURGLARY

Taken After Chase in Which Shots Are Fired, He Turns Over $1.23
He Took From House.

William Harden, 17 years old, a negro, who says he arrived here two days ago from Little Rock, Ark., where he had been released after serving a year's prison sentence for attempted burglary, was captured by policemen and neighbors after he had been pursued from the home of Mrs.
Maggie Welsh, 1746 Preston place, at 7 o'clock last night.

Neighbors, knowing Mrs. Welsh was away from home, investigated when they saw lights in her home.
The negro jumped from a rear window. Several shots were fired at the negro before he was overtaken in the rear of 1700 Nicholson place. He admitted the burglary and turned over to the police $1.23 he had obtained in the home.

ACHIEVEMENTS OF WILSON REGIME PRAISED BY COLBY

An Appeal for Dispassionate Consideration of Issues Marks First Address of Secretary of State.

ASKS WHY PEOPLE SHOULD WANT CHANGE

Asserts He Has Never Heard of Harding Displaying Any Friendliness to Progressive Moves or Leaders.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 8.—An appeal for dispassionate consideration of issues in the political campaign marked the address here last night of Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State, the first speech of Colby's western trip in support of the Democratic ticket.

"Anger, party bigotry, partisan malice and deep and uncontrolled antipathies," Colby said, "do not form a proper background for discussion of 'public duty.'"

The speaker took up the claim
"no confidently advanced by the Republican party that it is sure of success because of the prevalent desire in the country for a change."

"Even the Democrats are apprehensive that there is something in this," he said. "It may be true that many of you want a change. If so, you ought to know why you do and what you hope to get by way of alternative to what you have."

"Eight Momentous Years."

The eight "momentous years" of Democratic control, Colby said, had been marked by achievements "too recent and too numerous to be seen in their just perspective and true luster."

"Now let us see what it is you desire to change," he continued.
"Do you desire to change our attitude toward the Latin-American Governments on this hemisphere?"
Have you not seen their regard for this country, their confidence in progress, grow by leaps and bounds with every year of Wilson's administration? Would you change this?"

"Do we hear any more of the mil-litarist clamor for armed intervention in Mexico? No; that is all stilled.
President Wilson has adhered to his high aim and his fixed purpose of creating Mexico, even while it was in the throes of dangerous disorders, with the respect due from one friendly people to another. What is the result? Mexico lies on the high road to tranquil internal conditions and the resumption of peaceful development. Our relations with Mexico happily are unmarred by any act of oppression. Would you change this?"

Taxation Discussed.
Taking up taxation, Colby said the war "was a good deal of a war, and we spent a good deal of money."

The Republican party had "fumbled miserably" with the currency problem for years, the speaker said, because of the "desire of the Republican financial interests that no solution should be agreed upon that in any way lessened the power of these interests over the national finances."

"Is there not something to be said for the stability of business under Democratic administration? Would you change this? Do you want to back to Wall street corners of the nation's money?"

"When I see them (Republicans) limbering up their old blunderbuses of hate and prejudice and ignorance," he said, "and aiming them at the great man who occupies the White House today, it does not seem possible to me that the nation can be deceived by such attacks. The sturdy sense of America, its pride in its own great men, rallied to Washington, rallied to Lincoln, rallied to Roosevelt. It will rally to Woodrow Wilson."

Appeal to Progressives.

Referring to his own connection with the Progressive party Secretary Colby said he could not see how "any Progressive can be for Mr. Harding."
He had heard, he said, of no chapter in the Republican candidate's political life "when he betrayed any friendliness to the Progressive cause or to a Progressive leader."

"Let me ask you who live in Ohio, and who are in a sense his neighbors, have you ever discovered what he stands for? Do you really feel that you know his position on any issue?"

SKUNK HOLDS AT BAY 100 MEN WHO STORMED HINDENBURG LINE

Legion Members Kept in Room for an Hour Until "Enemy" Is Dispatched by Policeman.

SUDDENLY, N. Y., Oct. 8.—For one long hour, after the adjournment of the meeting of the Hamburg Post of the American Legion, a polecat, entrenched in a lower hall, the only exit from their clubroom, held at bay more than 100 veterans of the 103rd Infantry, who helped smash the Hindenburg line, the polecat keeping them prisoners until reinforcements

RAILROADS SET NEW RECORD FOR HANDLING OF FREIGHT

Week Ending Sept. 25 Showed Loading of 994,687 Cars—Increase Over 1919.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Big railroads set a new high record for the year in the volume of freight traffic handled during the week ending Sept. 25, it was announced yesterday by the American Railroad Association. Cars loaded with commercial freight numbered 994,687, compared with 987,041 in 1919 and 991,980 in 1918.

The best previous record for this year was the week of Aug. 23, when 983,064 cars were loaded.

During the week of Sept. 25 increases are shown as compared with the corresponding week of 1919, in the loading of grain, coke, ore and merchandise, the association stated, while decreases are shown in livestock, coal and miscellaneous freight.

Grain loading showed an increase for the first time this year.

Attempts Rescue, Is Killed.
SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Oct. 8.—Gus Martin, one of four miners caught in a cave-in at the Hansen

BURGLARS ROB STORE OF GOODS VALUED AT $8020

Thieves Believed to Have Used Truck to Haul Merchandise From 2765 Chouteau Avenue.

"Truck burglars" are believed by the police to have been responsible for a burglary at the dry goods store of Alexander M. Cates, 2765 Chouteau avenue, early yesterday, when merchandise valued at $8020 was stolen.

Cates told the police the burglars left little of value in the place. He discovered the burglary when he started to open up for the day and found the front door lock had been "jimmied" in the night and the shelves and shipping cases in the store almost bare. He spent most of the day taking an inventory and last evening furnished the police a list. There was no insurance.

Among the articles he listed as stolen were 60 dozen pairs of ladies' hose, $720; 500 pairs of trousers, $1570; 60 dresses, $1200; 100 silk shirts, $1700; 100 waists, $480; 150 blankets, $800; 60 dozen "middy" blouses, $750; 60 sweaters, $240; 100 dozen ties, $300; 140 dozen handkerchiefs, $120, and a miscellaneous assortment of sundry articles.

Burglars in the apartment of Mrs. Dollie Raglan, 4186 Delmar boulevard, in her absence last night, pried open a trunk and carried away clothing valued at $1975 and a pawn ticket for a diamond ring she valued at $700.

John Danner, 2223A Hickory street, believes he wounded a burglar whom he caught in a middle room of his home at 12.05 a. m. today. He was in a front room, he said, when he was awakened and saw the burglar in the adjoining room and opened fire. As the man ran he chased him to the rear steps and fired two more shots as the burglar ran to the yard. After one of the shots, he said, the man dropped and groaned but got up and escaped.

Burglars caught rifling the office of Dr. Frank E. Jacobi, 903 Morrison avenue, by Clement Steinke, who lives upstairs, at 2 a. m., escaped in an automobile while Steinke was getting his revolver. Dr. Jacobi later told the police he had expected a shipment of liquor yesterday and believed the burglars were seeking it. Orpheus R. Short, 4164 McPherson avenue, chased a burglar out of his home at 4 a. m. when he saw the intruder searching his trousers near the bed in his room. The man ran to the rear and dropped the trousers as he ran out a rear door. He took $21 from the pockets. Other burglaries reported were in the homes of L. E. Jackson, 4138 Cook avenue, jewelry valued at $100, and Mrs. William Maehl, 3418 Ohio avenue, clothing, $250.

MAN FOUND IN WRECKED AUTO WITH HANDS TIED

Chauffeur Says Passenger Bound Him and Drove Car Until It Hit Telephone Pole.

William B. Franklin, 39 years old, of 2123 North Grand avenue, a chauffeur for the Black Auto Service Co., 503 North Channing avenue, was found in the tonneau of his car with his arms tied behind his back with a clothes line after the automobile had collided with a telephone pole in front of 4841 Easton avenue at 10 o'clock last night.

He was freed by Mrs. Rose Kauffman, 1414 North Euclid avenue, and Charles L. Gersbach, 4821 Easton avenue, an undertaker, and later made the following report to the police.

He had answered a call telephoned from a saloon at 2941 Olive street and a man calling himself "Mr. Brown" directed him to drive to Grand and Easton avenues. The passenger went into a saloon at that corner, and coming out a few minutes later, ordered Franklin to drive west on Easton avenue.

At Warner and Easton avenues the passenger pointed a revolver at Franklin and ordered him to stop. He then pulled the chauffeur's arms behind his back, tied them, and threw him on the floor of the car between the front and back seats. The passenger then took charge of the wheel and drove west. The zig zag route he followed indicated to Franklin that the man knew little about operating an automobile. When the car hit the telephone pole the windshield was smashed.

Mrs. Kauffman told the police that she saw a bareheaded man run from the car after the collision and that his face was severely cut. A broad brimmed hat with the initials "H. L. M." in the sweatband was found in the front seat of the car.

SUGAR RETAILING TODAY AT 13 TO 16 1-2 CENTS A POUND

The retail price of sugar in St. Louis stores today ranged from 13 cents to 16 1/2 cents a pound.

One chain of stores was selling it in quantities limited to 25 pounds at the lower figure, another chain was making 13 1/2 cents, individual stores in various parts of the city were selling at 14 cents and 15 cents, while a few stores in the West End were still making 16 1/2 cents, the price quoted

Aug. 17 when speculators and hoarders began unloading their supply.

The American Sugar Refining Co. yesterday sold sugar to the jobbers at 11 1/2 cents a pound, which, added to the 1/2 cent a pound freight charge to St. Louis brought the cost to the local jobber to 12 1/2 cents a pound. The jobbers in turn sold to the retailers at 13 1/2 cents a pound.

Three months ago, as is known, sugar was selling here at 39 cents a pound and the housewife was being limited to one-pound packages. Frequently she was compelled to make other purchases in order to get the one pound. Then the Federal Reserve Bank began tightening credit of speculators who had contracted for large stocks of sugar at high prices and the result was a sudden drop in prices.

AGREEMENT ON COMPENSATION
LAW CHANGES

State Federation of Labor and Employers Reach Accord, With Concessions to Workers.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 8.—After several weeks devoted to conferences and discussions, the State Federation of Labor and the Associated Employers of Missouri, yesterday reached an agreement on amendments to the present workmen's compensation law to be submitted to the next Legislature.

When John Hall, representing the employers of the State, signed an agreement with President Wood of the State Federation of Labor, the coalition of the employers and the insurance companies which for years has opposed the enactment of a compensation law, formally was broken up, and the employers have allied themselves with the labor people for a compensation law with competitive State insurance.

This feature of the law, especially, the insurance companies are expected to fight to the end.

Amendments Agreed Upon.

Among the amendments agreed upon by the labor representatives and employers, practically all are in favor of the workers. Section 3, containing the famous senatorial joker which was discovered by the Post-Dispatch shortly after the passage of the law in the last session, will be eliminated. This was the exemption of employers from liability for willful failure to employ safety appliances in factories.

The weekly maximum is increased from $15 to $20. The cost of $25 for appeal is eliminated. The rate for total permanent disability is increased in the present law. The scale is two-thirds of the average wage for 240 weeks and 40 per cent thereafter. The amendment will carry the same scale for the first 240 weeks, but is increased to 50 per cent thereafter.

Referendum in November.

In reasonable occupations the basis for annual pay is increased from 200 to 250 days. The medical limit is changed from eight weeks and $200 to 60 days and $250.

The schedule of pay for loss of limb is increased 25 weeks. The question of whether an injured employee may refuse a medical examination is left to the discretion of the State commission, rather than of the employer, as under the present law. Wood said that the Missouri law, as it is proposed to amend it, will carry a higher schedule for the employee by 25 to 30 per cent than the average under the laws in operation in 43 States.

Both the State Federation of Labor and the employers are now raising funds with which to effect the ratification of the present law, which is suspended for referendum, and will be submitted at the general election in November.

Mrs. Henschen told police the accident occurred when she swerved her machine sharply to avoid a truck.

David Robertson, 7, of 1005A North Sixteenth street, suffered scalp wounds and cuts and bruises when struck by an automobile driven by Grey C. Livesay of Centralia, Ill., a guest at the Marquette Hotel, as the boy ran from behind another automobile at Eighteenth and Locust streets.

HARDING'S STAND ON LEAGUE COMMENTED ON BY HARRISON

Speakers' Bureau Chief Says "Democrats Accept Issue" Calls on Peace Advocates to Meet It.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—In a statement replying to Senator Harding's speech at Des Moines, Ia., yesterday, in which he stated he was opposed to the League of Nations with or without reservations, Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Democratic National Committee, declared "the Democratic party accepts the issue and calls on the friends of peace, whether Republicans, Independents or Democrats in meeting the issue now specifically presented by Senator Harding."

Continuing, the statement said: "No more can the great mass of the American citizen who believe in the peace of the world and the League of Nations idea support Senator Harding."

CLOSED SHOP PRESS CRITICISED BY EDITOR

Buffalo Man Says Chapel Foreman in Each Office Censors Labor News

E. J. McCone, general manager of the Buffalo Commercial, spoke at the dinner meeting of the Associated Industries of Missouri, an employers' organization, at the Buckingham Hotel last night, on "The Closed-Shop Press."

McCone said that of about 2000 metropolitan daily newspapers in the United States, all but four followed the closed shop plan in their mechanical departments. He said that in all these offices, the chapel foreman, representing the office branch of the local typographical union, acted as a censor to determine what matter should be printed and what should not be printed.

McCone, throughout his talk, frequently expressed doubts that what he said would be printed in the St. Louis papers, and said he had found that he was almost invariably misquoted by the newspapers. He attributed this to the "censorship," which he described in one instance as that of a $35-a-week man placed in the office by the American Federation of Laborers.

Admits Possibility Here.
He admitted a possibility that a correct report of his speech might be printed here, saying:

"Unless your union chapels are vicious, you can print news and advertisements of an open shop character. But you cannot print an editorial endorsing the open shop policy or condemning the closed shop. You may see an editorial finding fault with Gompers, Foster, or some other individual, but you never see an editorial attacking the closed shop system.

"I have a standing offer of $10,000 to anyone who will show me such an editorial printed since July, 1917, in a metropolitan daily which operates its mechanical department on the closed shop plan.

"The reason is that the chapel foreman—the censor—if every newspaper office has strict orders to prevent the paper from going to press with any editorial matter—editorial matter, mind you—which approves the open shop or condemns the closed shop, he can use his judgment, but he must not let editorial matter favoring the open shop get into print. He will lose his job and perhaps his union card if he does."

McCone said there were instances where such a censorship was applied to advertising matter. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, he said, printed a full-page open shop advertisement in its early "business" edition, for circulation outside the city. In the regular city edition, he said, the advertisement did not appear, and he said that on the next day a statement was issued on the first page, drawn up by the unionized employees of the paper and signed by the publisher, in which the publisher declared that he had been unfair to organized labor, but that since the labor would have no further cause to complain, if it would do him the favor of continuing to get out his paper. He said also that in Minneapolis the words "open shop" could not appear in advertising matter.

He did not offer any direct instances of interference with news matter, but he showed a headline in the Phoenix (Ariz.) Gazette, an open shop daily, which he said could not have been printed in any daily which ran its mechanical department on the closed shop plan. This headline relating to some new development in the local labor situation, was "Phoenix Deals Closed Shop Another Blow."

McCone also read headlines which he said indicated the influence of the closed shop system upon the handling of news. These headlines were: "Big Battle for Open Shop Forces 2300 Men Off Job." Another was "Money Power Defies Labor." He said that an item about Samuel Gompers' utterance, criticizing the action of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, bore the same headline in 136 newspapers. This was "Gompers Hits Open Shop." He said this could hardly be a mere coincidence.

Four Open Shop Papers.
McCone said the four city dailies running on the open shop plan were his own paper, the Buffalo Commercial, the Los Angeles Times, the Phoenix Gazette and the Hamilton (O.) Daily News. He said the Los Angeles Times took a defensive attitude. "I'm on the aggressive," McCone said. Sam Gompers recognized that when he declared that all the McCones this side of hell wouldn't free the press from the closed shop.

The speaker described the system of organization of the International Typographical Union, a local in each city and a chapel in each office. He said the chapel foreman was not the same as the foreman of the office, and that his real job was to censor the contents of the paper. He said a printer receiving a piece of copy which looks doubtful to him, in his attitude toward union interests, must submit it to the chapel foreman, who decides, he declared, whether the matter shall be printed or thrown in the waste basket.

He outlined the progress of a printer through apprenticeship and substitute work, into a regular job, which he said would be obtained, not by applying to the office foreman, but by applying at the local headquarters of the union.

"He is told to do 32,000 ems in eight hours," the speaker said. "That represents about 40 per cent of a man's normal capacity, and he has to kill a lot of time in order to do himself down to it. Some day he sets 32,000 ems, or he votes wrong in a union meeting, or he is seen shaking hands with a nonunion man, and out he goes, fired, not by the office, but by the union. He goes to another city, and is told that he cannot get work without a traveling card from the city he came from. That goes for any city in the United States or Canada.

Weapon for Discipline.
"Think of the possibilities for discipline in a system like that. If the printer is going to continue to eat he must submit to it."

McCone read what he termed the oath of the International Typographical Union, which he said every member had to sign, with the words:

"My fidelity to the union, and my duties to the members thereof, shall not be interfered with by any allegiance I may now or hereafter owe to any other organization, social, political or religious, secret or otherwise."

McCone charged that "in every newspaper office, an astonishing percentage of the composing room force" was engaged in doing useless work, setting advertisements printed a week or a month ago, and not to be printed again, or "duplicating work performed by other unionized slaves at 40 per cent of their normal capacity, and dumping it in the hell box." He said this condition existed in the newspaper offices in wartime, when the newspapers were insisting on the elimination of all useless effort in industry, and concentration on the nation's war aims. "And all the time," he said, "25 per cent of the mechanical staffs of the papers were duplicating work done weeks before. It was just as if a farmer should destroy every sixth of seventh hill of corn, to make more work for agricultural laborers, or as if every sixth or seventh street car should run through the streets locked and empty, to keep more motormen and conductors at work."

Tells of Work in Buffalo.
McCone told of his endeavor to keep the four other dailies in Buffalo from signing a contract with the typographical union, and said Norman E. Mack, publisher of the Buffalo Times, replying to McCone's allegations, but pleaded, according to McCone's version of his statement

Chas. O. Emerson

MY experience in life has taught me that it is not what you pay for a shoe but what you get in style, comfort and long wear that really counts.

A shoe that doesn't give satisfaction isn't a bargain at any price. So I brand a fair and square retail price based on net factory costs on the sole of every shoe in my store. This absolutely protects you against unfair prices and guarantees that you are getting your money's worth.

I am very proud of Emerson styles this season. The more I compare them with other lines the better pleased I am with the work of our designers.

It will pay you to come in and look over our New Fall Styles. You will find many advance models here that cannot be duplicated elsewhere.

Compare our prices and if you are not convinced that Emerson Shoes will give you more for your money than any other shoes, I will not ask or expect you to buy.

ILLNESS OF TEN JURORS HALTS TARWATER TRIAL

Physicians Report Men on Panel at Galatin (Mo.), Appeal to Be Suffering From Cholera Morbus. Special to the Post-Dispatch. GALLATIN, Mo., Oct. 5.—The illness of 10 of the 12 jurors today halted temporarily at least the trial of Hugh Y. Tarwater, in progress in the Circuit Court here for the alleged murder of Wesley L. Robertson, editor, last December. The jurymen became ill last night and, according to reports made to Judge Arch B. Davis by physicians, are believed to be suffering from cholera morbus. All of the 12 men are farmers, and the change in food and water was believed responsible for their illness.

When court was ready to convene at 8:30 o'clock this morning, two of the 12 men were too ill to report. Eight of the remaining 10, able to come to the courthouse, Judge Davis was informed, were suffering from a similar attack.

The State concluded its case against Tarwater yesterday. The defense had just started.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Plans for a memorial to Gen. John J. Pershing were announced here today. The memorial would take the form of an arch, similar to the Arc de Triomphe in Paris, and would be constructed on the lake front at the head of a 15-mile highway in Chicago to bear the General's name. A statue of the General at the base of the arch also is called for in the plans.

The road would be called "Pershing road." It was pointed out that the Government warehouses from which the General's armies were fed are located on this highway. The project is sponsored by eight improvement organizations from the district along the highway that would bear the General's name.

BROTHERHOOD MEETING FOR PUBLIC TONIGHT

Bishop Quin of Texas to Address
St. Andrew Gathering at Christ Church Cathedral.

A meeting for the public will be held tonight in Christ Church Cathedral by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, Episcopal men's organization, which is holding its thirty-fifth national convention at Hotel Statler. The chief speakers will be the Right Rev. Clinton S. Quin, Bishop coadjutor of Texas, and James H. Pershing of Denver. The latter is a brother of Gen. John J. Pershing.

The subject of the meeting will be "New Standards in the Reorganized Church." The meeting will open at 7:30 with a half hour of singing, under the direction of W. G. Armstrong of Alton.

This afternoon was given to recreation, both by the adult brotherhood convention and by the junior convention, which is being held simultaneously at the Church of the Holy Communion, Washington and Leffingwell avenues. A baseball game was arranged for the men, at one of the Forest Park diamonds, with Bishop Quin as one of the players.

The boys' program for the afternoon included an aquatic meet at the Y. M. C. A. "Something" was the entry on the boys' printed program for the evening, beginning at 7:30.

Tomorrow morning the boys, after first gathering in their own convention, are to go to the Statler for a conference with the men's organization.

At 2 p. m. the boys are to leave the hotel in groups, each with its own leader. Each group will have directions in code, which it must follow in order to get to its destination. The code is in the form of a chart buried by De Soto, and recently discovered, and leads to "a pot of gold at the end of the trail." The trail will lead to a spot in Forest Park, where the "treasure" will be found, under a cross. The boys will have a campfire supper, and an outdoor service of preparation for the holy communion, to be received in the Cathedral at 7:30 a. m. Sunday by both men and boys. A swim in the Y. M. C. A. pool will end tomorrow evening's outing.

The conventions will end Sunday night with a service in the Cathedral.

TWO YOUTHS GET 40 YEARS FOR ROBBERY

Sentenced After Pleading Guilty to Four Charges Each—Another Gets 30 Years.

William Holtsclaw, 22 years old, of Ferguson, and Herbert Staedtler, 29, of 2114 Illinois avenue, were sentenced to serve 40 years each in the penitentiary, after they pleaded guilty yesterday, before Judge Wurdeman in Clayton, to four charges of highway robbery. The sentences were 10 years on each charge.

Albert Mayer, 19, of 2503 Magnolia avenue, pleaded guilty to three similar charges, and was sentenced to 10 years on each charge, or 30 years in all. Thomas Frederickson, 19, of 905 Morrison avenue, against whom two charges are made, chose to plead not guilty and stand trial.

Regarding Sentence as Lenient, Judge Wurdeman said to a Post-Dispatch reporter today that he considered that he had given lenient treatment to the three who pleaded guilty. "St. Louis County juries are not in a tolerant frame of mind toward highway robbers at present," he said. "If these prisoners had gone to trial, they would probably have been sentenced to 20 years on each charge, the limit. I gave them only half of that." It was learned definitely that the different 10-year sentences given to each prisoner are not to run concurrently, as is sometimes the practice, but are to be cumulative, making 40 years for two of the prisoners and 20 for the third.

The St. Louis police have stated that all four of the young men, after being arrested on the night of Sept. 7 at their homes, admitted that they had participated, since Aug. 4, in 17 holdups in St. Louis and St. Louis County, and had stolen four automobiles.

The arrest of a fifth young man became known today, when it was announced that Bryant Frederickson, brother of Thomas Frederickson, had been brought from Grand Junction, Colo., and was in the Clayton jail. The county authorities say he has admitted having a part in some of the crimes. When he was arrested in Colorado, a gold watch taken in the first holdup committed by the youths was in his possession. He will have a preliminary hearing before Justice Werremeyer Thursday.

Holtsclaw served in France with the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry. Staedtler was in an artillery unit, and Thomas Frederickson enlisted in the army, but was discharged when it was found that he was under age. He has a wife and 10-month-old baby.

The arrests came about through a report to the police that a Ferguson youth, described as "a two-guy kid," from his practice of carrying two revolvers, had said that he had some watches for sale. This was Holtsclaw, who, when arrested, began his enumeration of holdups in which he had participated, and named his companions, who were then arrested. Each admitted participation in the robberies, the police said.

Quit After Nine "Jobs." Holtsclaw told the police that he made the first suggestion of criminal enterprises to Staedtler, who brought Mayer in, and that Thomas Frederickson came in later, but quit after taking part in nine "jobs."

Holtsclaw said that the first night's work was holding up two men near the Wagner Electric plant, and taking their watches. Later came the thefts of automobiles, and the use of them in robberies. Their method was to hire taxicabs, and take them away from the chauffeurs.

Holtsclaw told of robbing Otto Heckert, paymaster of Forest Park Highlands, from whom $142 was taken near the Belleview Club, and Fred Wehrenberg, manager of the Cherokee Theater. Wehrenberg reported that $122 was taken from him, but the prisoner said it was only $132. This robbery, which took place Sunday night, Sept. 5, was the last for which Holtsclaw accepted responsibility.

Five Hours in a Bake Shop

CHAPTER I

MY PARENTAGE, ETC.

YOU know me. My sponsors introduced me to you a couple of weeks ago as "FRESH-TOSTY, The Big New Loaf."

They've told you that I am baked every morning and ready-to-serve at mid-day—fresh and fragrant. That I'm wholesome and fine-grained, my delicate brown crust nutty and flavorsome.

These are my parents

They've told you that I keep fresh longer than my little one-pound cousins, and don't crumble under the knife. That I taste better, toast better down to my very heel.

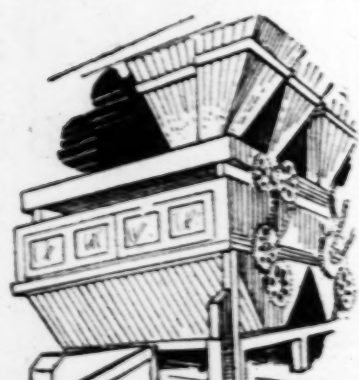

But, goodness me, they didn't say a word about my parents, or how I'm "raised" in marvelously sanitary surroundings. They left that for me. So, if you like, come with me now on my five-hours' journey through a wonderful automatic bake shop.

My Parents are choicest flours from Kansas and the Northern wheat belt, the very kinds you keep in your own bin at home.

They are stored in sacks in a clean sunlit room on the top floor of the bake shop. Each is fed into a compartment of an automatic blending machine, forming a perfect union, of which I am the offspring.

I slip into a great rotary sifter, and whirl madly through a mesh of fine silk, coming out fluffy and airy as a summer girl. Gravity shoots me down to a storage hopper and here I wait for the signal that starts me on my automatic travels.

A trap door springs open beneath me. I drop to a weighing machine. Thence,

I come out of this sifter, fluffy and airy as a summer girl light as thistledown, I float into a big kneader, joining forces with the other items in my make-up—pure milk, and lard, sugar, salt, cakes of

This is my make-up creamy yeast and filtered water gauged and tempered "just so" in a special tank.

"Ready!" I hear a voice say. An electric button clicks and two wicked-looking blades in the kneader start whirling, cutting, slashing through my whole constitution.

Decreasing the Cost of Living Increasing the Joy

Extravagance and laziness are two chief causes of the high cost of living. The slogan of the present day is loaf and spend.

The old style of living, the style that made America great, was work and save. More work and save more means increased production and decreased consumption.

Some people are so extravagant that they don't consider the cost, especially if they can get it charged. Some of them are so forgetful that they forget to pay.

Some people are so lazy that they cannot carry a package, so they must have it sent.

PIGGLY WIGGLY every day offers you an opportunity to save. PIGGLY WIGGLY has no special prices for a day, but challenges the world on regular prices. Don't be fooled by a one-day joker.

At PIGGLY WIGGLY prices are lower than elsewhere every day in the week and every week in the year.

During the war many a big gun was covered by trees and shrubbery, the boys in the trenches learned that things were not always what they seemed. They also learned not to believe their own eyes without looking under the surface.

Special prices for a day are often very deceiving. Where there is no profit, there is usually rascality.

You can increase the joy of living by buying at PIGGLY WIGGLY, not only by saving money, but by buying clean goods from a clean store.

PIGGLY WIGGLY goes down in price each day as the markets change.

KATO IS OPPOSED TO NAMING COMMISSION

Says Body Could Not Pass on Anti-Japanese Situation in California.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, Oct. 8.—Proposals that a high commission be appointed to reach an agreement on the issues which have caused tension between Japan and the United States, are opposed by Viscount Takaki Kato, member of the House of Peers and former Minister of Foreign Affairs, says the Ji Ji Shimpō. He is quoted as saying a commission of the kind contemplated could not pass upon the points raised by the anti-Japanese movement in California.

"Conclusions of a new treaty which would insure equal treatment of Japanese and other aliens," he is quoted as saying, "would be excellent in principle, but would be difficult of attainment at present. I believe the anti-Japanese question will remain a knotty problem, irrespective of the result of the presidential election in the United States. The best program would be to strengthen and unify Japanese public opinion and to appeal to Americans in the name of justice and humanity as forcibly as possible."

American members of the American Japan Society have adopted resolutions to be cable to the Japan Society of New York City. These resolutions state it is felt that Americans should be informed of the intensity of feeling caused in Japan by the legislative action contemplated in California, "which threatens the estrangement of the two peoples and the destruction of their long-standing friendship."

"In acknowledgment of the just treatment we have received from the Japanese Government and people," the resolutions declare, "we ask that our countrymen give more careful consideration to the international interests involved, and solicit their patience and reliance upon accredited representatives of Japan and America, who may find a solution that will not contravene the principles of equity and justice, and which may at the same time protect the mutual interests of the two nations."

But one need not have this particular type of figure to be well-fitted in a Redfern Corset. Whether you are tall or tiny, slender or full figured, there is a Redfern Corset which will give you long, unbroken lines.

Ask the corsetiere in your favorite store to fit you in a Redfern Corset suited to your particular figure—you will find that you may wear becomingly many of the newer frocks which you may have thought unsuitable before.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Question of a Wife's Citizenship.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In an article published in the Post-Dispatch of Sept. 13 a paragraph occurs to the effect that the wife of a felon forfeited her right to vote as long as married women derive their citizenship only through their husbands; and that this point had been impressively brought out in a play presented at the Wednesday Club last season.

As the person responsible for the legal points in the play referred to, I wish to state that the disqualification as a voter of the wife of a felon applied only to a naturalized felon whose papers had been canceled for his felony.

This is explicitly stated in the text in later editions of the play, and in the first edition is clearly shown by the context, as the wife's dilemma arose from her inability to produce her husband's papers of naturalization as the proof of her right to vote. It seems to me that there can be no argument as to an American-born woman, whose husband is also American born, retaining her citizenship with its right to vote, regardless of his status from crime, or service in the army and navy; but how the wife of a naturalized citizen, whose felony had canceled his citizenship and deprived him of his naturalization papers, could show these non-existent papers in proof of her citizenship is difficult for me to understand.

Miss Bobb assented to this theory when it was presented to her at the time of the preparation of the play and I think now would agree that if a woman's citizenship is dependent upon her husband's, that when his citizenship papers are canceled her rights automatically cease.

The decision of the Election Commissioners that the wife of a declarant is not entitled to vote, though her husband is a qualified voter, while technically not in violation of the nineteenth Federal amendment, because that deals with citizens and not aliens, seems to me like juggling with the spirit of the amendment, in that "two weights and two measures" are used with married women, spinners and men. An alien spinner may vote on her first papers (at least I have seen no statement to the contrary), and if her married sister must get her rights through her husband, and is arbitrarily denied the vote, though he has it, is not that not only illogical and unjust, but does it not penalize marriage—the last thing that wise statesmanship desires to do?

MRS. W. W. BOYD.

Get the Criminals!

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your paper today on its front page bears an account of the holdup in the residence of a prominent family in St. Louis. The perpetrators of the crime are still at large. On the same page there is an account of a very successful raid by the police on a gambling club. Everyone concerned with the criminal situation here seems to wish to put the buck to somebody else, but the decent people of St. Louis should realize that the criminal conditions in this town are a disgrace to the city and State. It would be far better if the successful raid by the police on this residence were followed by a successful pursuit of the thugs by the police, a successful imprisonment without the perfectly senseless paroles that the politicians use to bolster up their following. We strain at a gnat and swallow a camel. The circumstances remind one of the story of the little boy who was walking on the street with his mother. A circus parade passed and the little boy pointed his finger and said, "Oh, mother, look at that d—d elephant!" His mother said, "Willie, don't point." He was so very lawful and upright that we cannot permit a relatively minor crime like gambling, but we are so busy stopping gambling that we haven't time to stop holdup men and murderers.

Let us treat criminals as they deserve to be treated, put them in jail and keep them there. Half of the crimes in St. Louis are committed by criminals out on a parole holiday.

The Senate Oligarchy.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

How long are the American people going to stand for the Senate oligarchy, or house of millionaires? Here we have a body of men that controls legislation in this country by a majority of one, and the man that gives them the majority has been convicted by a jury of his own party of buying his way into the Senate. Last week eight ballplayers in Chicago were indicted for selling out in the world's series last year, and Charley Comiskey, their manager, suspended the whole bunch and told them if they were convicted they could never play ball again. But what does this Senate oligarchy do when this millionaire from Michigan is convicted? They retain him in the Senate to give them a majority, and Senator Harding, a candidate for President, is one of the men who help to retain him, and our Sunday-school teacher from Missouri, who sheds tears over the election frauds in Kansas City and doesn't say a word about the way the negroes were counted out at the Republican primary in August, is another one who helps to retain him.

It is time for the American people to clip the wings of these Senators as the people of England a few years ago did to the House of Lords.

HOW THE LEAGUE WORKS.

The attempt of Senator Spencer to convince people that under the League of Nations this country would be obliged to send an army and a fleet over to the Balkan Peninsula at the first sign of a border attack between Rumania and Serbia will serve one good purpose if it will direct the minds of the people towards finding out just what would happen, as provided in the covenant, should one nation begin an unexpected war of external aggression against another, or even after all the preliminary diplomatic channels of conciliation had been exhausted.

In the first place, the other members of the League would move immediately to accomplish these things: The severance of all trade or financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse between their nationals and the nationals of the covenant-breaking state and the prevention of all financial, commercial or personal intercourse between the nationals of the covenant-breaking state and the nationals of any other state, whether a member of the League or not. This is the exact language of Article XVI.

Every war in modern times has been sustained because one or both of the belligerents could buy supplies from neutrals and sell to neutrals the products of their countries.

Under the covenant, however, this would be the situation: Not a bushel of wheat, not a pound of meat, not a shred of clothing, not a gun or a keg of powder or a bit of machinery—nothing in the world, in fact, could the offending nation buy from another country. Not a penny could it borrow, nor a penny's worth of its own products could it sell or exchange in another country.

Isolated from the world, how long could any country wage a war under these conditions? Look over the map of the world and find the nation which could supply itself, within its own borders, with all the food its people and armed soldiers would need, with all the clothing they would require, to say nothing of the other absolute essentials of life—look and search in vain outside the borders of the United States.

And for a more concrete application of the penalty, how long would the allies have lasted if they had not been able to buy and borrow in neutral countries? And how much sooner would the war have ended if Germany had been absolutely shut off from trade with Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Switzerland?

Because an economic blockade has none of the frightfulness of armed conflict, it is lightly regarded. Actually it is a terrible weapon. It is a potent instrument of peace which would make war practically an impossibility—the certainty of its use would prevent war.

THE PROGRESS OF GAMALIEL.

At Baltimore a week ago, when asked if he stood with Senator Johnson for scrapping the League, Mr. Harding replied: "If I believed in one-man government I could answer that question."

At Des Moines yesterday Mr. Harding not only stood beside Senator Johnson, but stepped out a pace ahead of Hiram when he declared: "The League is scrapped."

Mr. Harding progresses. He has become a convert to one-man government, thanks to the persuasiveness of Senator Borah, who proselytized with a club.

THE CENSUS' CALL OF STATES.

The average population increase in the United States during the past 10 years has been 14.9 per cent. Individual states, accordingly, which exceed that average, as a considerable number of them do, are the chief contributors this year to another wonderful showing in that progress with which America has long been associated all over the world. They take rank as leading states. They set the pace.

States whose growth is only approximately the same as the general average are merely representative states.

States whose growth falls far below that of the average of all states are not keeping step. They are not making a proper use of advantages which are shared in at least some degree by almost all the states, barring a few in the arid belt. In a sense, they are holding America back and are admonished to a more painstaking and intelligent use of their opportunity as members of the American Union.

St. Louis in the list of American cities lost fourth place and took rank as the sixth city. Missouri's rate of growth, 2.3 per cent, had prepared us for a lesser Missouri rating in the relative rank of states. Formerly seventh State, it has been outstripped by both California and Michigan and now stands in ninth place. The need for measures enabling us to make a more gratifying showing in the census of 1930 is rendered cumulative.

From a nation of 91,972,266 people in 1910, the continental areas of the great republic have grown to be a nation of 105,883,108 people in 1920—an increase of 13,910,842, despite war handicaps. Nowhere else in the world can be found in one nation a like number of homogeneous, united people, speaking one language. Of the other great Governments which control the destinies of huge masses of people, the British empire is made up of many diverse units, China is divided into many different peoples, speaking many dialects, and Russia, stripped of great areas and much population by the war, is only a name for a congeries of many races. The effects of the war are such that probably no other country can show such evidences of prosperity and growth. Our responsibility to the rest of the world, especially the less fortunate part of it, is emphasized.

There is now one Congressman to approximately every 211,000 people. If this ratio is maintained, the House in 1923 will add 64, perhaps 65, new members, making that body consist of 499 or 500 members. Will Congress, in the new apportionment, impose the disadvantage of unwieldiness to this extent, or will it wisely increase the ratio, keeping the House at its present membership of 435, or preferably reducing it below 435?

It is only fair to remark, too, that baseball was a pretty decent sport until the nation found itself in the deadly toils of prohibition.

AN "AMMOOSIN" CUS.

Some monstrous lies have been told in the current political campaign, but none approaches the unique monumental standard of the lie fathered by E. J. McCone at the Buckingham Hotel when he said that there is a union censor in every newspaper plant who censors the news and sees that "all matter objectionable to the union is eliminated." If he will bet his ever-ready $10,000 on each of the 1788 union newspaper plants of this country, he will need the backing of the United States Treasury to pay his bet.

Mr. McCone's idea of the conduct of a newspaper is aptly illustrated by his remark that if he could have the support of retail advertisers for 30 days he could put every newspaper on an open-shop basis.

He is an "ammoosin" cuss, with the largest capacity for the manufacture of bunk of any spellbinder so far recorded in the Munchausen calendar.

Bopp and Schack, German plotters, having been paroled from Leavenworth prison, perhaps some of our own citizens confined there on war charges will be next in line for clemency.

A CRUSADE ON THE "JAY-DRIVER."

Better ways of dealing with the problem of preventable automobile accidents are being given earnest attention by municipal officials and the representatives of civic bodies.

A Traffic Bureau of centralized responsibility under the Streets Department, a registration of all motor-car drivers, professional as well as unprofessional; publicity for all violators of the traffic laws, and a pound in which to hold their automobiles form parts of a general plan which it is proposed to incorporate in a city ordinance. Additional one-way streets are likewise under consideration.

St. Louis is but one of many cities which are groping for a better system of regulating the automobile menace of which complaint has been made incessantly for years. In New York the registration plan has had such success in reducing the number of unfit and reckless drivers that its extension to the entire State is now suggested. In New York also it is urged that all owners of motor cars should be required to give a bond of $3000 when they take out their licenses. This is to cover the case of owners who permit their automobiles to be used in criminal robberies and also that of financially irresponsible owners, unprotected by insurance, from whom no indemnity can be collected by those on whom they inflict injury. The bond really means compulsory insurance.

The new regulations proposed in St. Louis are by no means as drastic as those proposed in some other places. The contention that the system of the past is inadequate in its results can be sustained by many citations of facts. That it is planned to supplement it with new provisions is encouraging, as indicating that thought is being given to the seriousness of the problem. It is not to be solved by stigmatizing so-called "jay-walking" or mere phrase-making of other sort.

The number of children injured or killed while playing in the streets cannot fail to impress those who study the statistics. Other places must be provided for them to play in, with avoidance of the streets strictly enforced. If a motor car that had figured in traffic violations or in criminal depredations should be impounded for 30 or 60 or 90 days, there would be at least an assurance that it would not reappear in a similar role during that space of time, an assurance not possible under the present system.

Conditions call for fundamental measures, not mere makeshifts.

Mr. Taft says the people are tired of eight years of Wilson. Just how tired of a President the people can get in eight years may be a matter of surmise with Mr. Taft, but that gentleman is the greatest authority, extant or obsolete, on the degree of popular fatigue attainable in four years.

Pussyfoot Johnson is back in England, where he is being threateningly received. If he should lose his other eye, could that ferocious prohibitionist be called a blind tiger?

Will Texas claims 47 states for the Republicans and says Texas is doubtful. And as soon as Harding is inaugurated Brother Hays will submit his plans for burning the Democratic party at the stake.

SPEECH BY SENATOR HARDING.

FRIENDS: I don't know whether any of you ever tried to carry water on both shoulders. If you haven't, don't try it. I have been trying it, and I come to you with first-hand information that it can't be done. I have no great reputation about being definite, but I want to be definite on this. I tried to be for the League of Nations with one crowd and against it with another, and if they don't get everything they want, whereas the anti-leaguers are the widest lot you ever saw and would have wrecked me as sure as God made little apples had they been refused their way. It was the same decision the Republican party had to make at the Chicago convention, when it avoided a split by chucking the League of Nations, and I can assure you that both the party and myself sweat a good deal of blood.

Now, friends, the campaign can begin. I have made up my mind what I am going to do, and we can have a choice between my position and that of Gov. Cox. I would rather have his side of the debate, but since I can't, I will have to do the best I can with the side that has fallen to me. I think I can win anyway. I find that people do not very well understand the League of Nations issue. They think we would have to send our boys to fight the wars of Europe and Asia, and they are not assured that the league is really a movement for peace. The thing for us to do is to keep the people in doubt as to the exact nature of the league and heighten the impression that our boys would be fighting the wars of other people all over the world. This sort of thing is more credible to people than anything good you can say of the league, and we may get away with it.

If you will notice my speeches, I keep saying I am for America first. That doesn't mean anything in a large way, since the welfare of all nations must ultimately concern us, but it sounds fine. People respond to that sort of thing quicker than they do to the altruism of Mr. Wilson. In other words, it is bunk, which wins most political campaigns and will probably win this one. That is all, friends. I have a great load off my mind. A man of two minds is carrying something. Deceive all the people you can about the purposes and scope of the League of Nations, demand to know when war was ever stopped by any such device, and work hard. We have the money, the prejudices and the immoral side of the debate. What else do we need?

The Times informs us that a man who wants to sell his body to Washington University for vivisection finds there is no chance for doing so, and we cannot very well see how there could be.

Criticism of Gov. Cox because of his charges that the Republicans were amassing a huge campaign fund is happily less heard of, and it was heard at all only in the widespread ignorance of practical politics. There is a game in this country called poker. Possibly you have heard of it. If you have, you will know what we mean when we say that the Governor did not intend to be frozen out before they drew cards. The Governor has been the Democratic candidate for Governor in Ohio four times, and three times he has won. He won the last time by a majority of 117,000. He knows something about practical politics, and if you know anything about poker you will appreciate why he did not want to be frozen out before they drew cards. He is still in the game. We don't know what he holds, but we know Senator Harding has had an awful time making up his mind what to discard.

Some time ago we said that where the name of a celebrity collided with a word somewhat similar the word disappears from our language. A striking illustration of how true this is appears in the following, which a reader found on a tablet in Memorial Park:

EDUCATING ALIEN CHILDREN.

From the Chicago Freeman (Slovakian).

W HEN the economic conditions in Europe are settled, the flow of immigration to the United States will slow down. This time, perhaps, is not so far away. Foreign-born workers will return to the country of their birth, especially those who have left their families there, as well as bachelors. The children of the foreign-born, grown up in America, are by no means bent upon going back to the native country of their parents, but remain in the United States where they are acquainted with the conditions. The native country of their parents, with all its customs and traditions, is as alien to them as everything here was alien to their parents when they arrived. For these reasons, it is necessary in the first place to care for the instruction of the children so they may not grow up half-illiterate. Nowadays it is not enough for a grown-up person just to know how to read and write. Modern techniques have developed to such an extent that it is necessary to the industrial worker to know something more. In agriculture it is just the same, for on the farm machines are more and more eliminating animal labor, and the fields are no more tilled on the principles prevailing 30 or 40 years old. Whoever today learns merely to read and write, is a half-illiterate. It is a life necessity for the civilized man to have at least a fundamental knowledge of geometry, chemistry, geography, sociology, botany, mining, history, etc.

THE NEW JAPAN.

SAITO MAN in Japan. (Advertiser (American Daily).

JAPAN is said to have become a newly rich nation—a little nation among the nations. The word "marikin" is always given such contemptuous utterance, that when Japan is spoken of as a marikin, no compliment is intended. Narikins are flush with money, have no culture; and their thoughts are vulgar. At least we think so, especially those of us who may be styled "the new poor" who "have known better days." There is no doubt that many new narikins are begotten by the war, and there is much clamor against them on the part of the old rich and the new poor as well as the perpetually poor. One of the common foreign delusions about Japan is to think that she is only a very old country, and neglect the other half-side of the truth that she is a very young country, younger than even the United States. No nation on earth is youthful in a strict sense, not even Poland or Czechoslovakia. But in the sense of a young nation being a reborn and reinvigorated nation, Japan is probably one of the youngest on earth.

ITALY UNDER GIOLITTI.

From the London Observer.

M ANY subsidiary measures have been passed with lightning speed, and the foundations of Signor Giolitti's financial and social organization have been laid. The Chamber has discussed the grant of twenty millions to the co-operative, and the Government scheme for reducing the high prices of articles of ordinary consumption. The co-operatives are a most important feature of the social economy of this country. The new law against excessive prices gives the Government power by requisition in certain cases, and purchases with heavy fines and imprisonment "the producer or merchant, whether wholesale or retail, who seeks to impede or limit free competition in the sale of any article of first necessity or raw materials." It would seem as if the Socialist party had decided to extend a truce to the "bourgeois" Ministry, for the party has voted for nearly all the items of the program of the Giolitti Cabinet and the recent elections have been characterized by an attitude of greater tolerance on the part of the usually extreme Socialist minority. No less than eight Socialists are embodied in the newly formed Commission for Foreign Affairs against 18 members of other groups.

THIRD INSTALLMENT.

AUNT SOPHY listened for the re-arranging of Adele's spoons and plates in the kitchen. She came forward. "Now listen," she began.

"I love him," said Julia Gold dramatically. "I love him."

Except that it was very white and, somehow, old looking, Aunt Sophy's face was as benign as always. "Now, look here, Julia, my girl. I'm an old maid, but I know what love is when I see it. I'm ashamed of you, Julia. Sensible woman like you. Hugging and kissing a boy like that, and old enough to be his mother, pretty near."

"Now, look here, Aunt Sophy! I'm fond of you, but if you're going to talk that way—Why, she's wonderful. She's taught me what it means to really—"

"Oh, my land!" Aunt Sophy sat down, looking, suddenly, very sick and old.

And then from the kitchen, Adele's clear young voice: "Heh! What's the idea? I'm not going to do all the work. Where's everybody?"

Aunt Sophy started up again. She came up to them and put a hand—a capable, firm, steady hand—on the arm of each. The woman drew back, but the boy did not.

"Will you promise me not to do anything for a week? Just a week! Will you promise me? Will you?"

"Are you going to tell father?"

"Not for a week, if you'll promise not to see each other in that week. No, I don't want to send you away, Julia, I don't want to—You're not a bad girl. It's just—he's never had—at home they never gave him a chance. Just a week, Julia. Just a week, Eugene. We can talk things over then."

Adele's footsteps coming from the kitchen.

"Quick!"

"I promise," said Eugene. Julia said nothing. "Well, really," said Adele, from the doorway, "you're a nifty lot, sitting around while I slave in the kitchen. 'Gene, see if you can open the olives with this fool can opener. I tried."

There is no knowing what she expected to do in that week, Aunt Sophy; what miracle she meant to perform. She had no plan in her mind. Just hope. She looked strangely shrunken and old, suddenly. But when, three days later, the news came that America was to go into the war she knew that her prayers were answered.

Flora was beside herself. "Eugene won't have to go. He isn't quite 21, thank God! And by the time he is it will be over. Surely." She was almost hysterical.

Eugene was in the room. Aunt Sophy looked at him and he looked at Aunt Sophy. In her eyes was a question. In his was the answer. They said nothing. The next day Eugene enlisted. In three days he was gone. Flora took her bed.

Next day Adele, a faint, unwonted color marking her cheeks, walked into her mother's bedroom and stood at the side of the recumbent figure. Her father, his hands clasped behind him, was pacing up and down, now and then kicking a cushion that had fallen to the floor. He was chewing a dead cigar, one side of his face twisted curiously over the cylinder in his mouth, so that he had a sinister and crafty look.

"Charnsworth, won't you please stop ranting up and down like that! My nerves are killing me. I can't help it if the war has done something or other to your business. I'm sure no wife could ing at her mother. Her hands were clasped behind her, too. In that moment, as she stood there, she resembled her mother and father so startlingly and simultaneously that the two, had they been less absorbed in their own affairs, must have marked it.

The girl's head came up, stiffly. "Listen. I'm going to marry Daniel Oakley."

have been more economical than I have. Nothing matters but Eugene, anyway. How could he do such thing? I've given my whole life to my children."

H. Charnsworth kicked the cushion again so that it struck the wall at the opposite side of the room. Flora drew her breath in between her teeth as though a knife had entered her heart.

Adele still stood at the side of the bed, look-

Daniel Oakley was 50, and a friend of her father's. For years he had been coming to the house and for years she had ridiculed him. She and Eugene had called him Sturdy Oak because he was always talking about his strength and endurance, his walks, his golf, his rugged health; pounding his chest meanwhile and planting his feet far apart. He and Baldwin had had business relations as well as friendly ones.

Want to Exchange New Waistlines for Old? Here's How It Can Be Done!

The Advice Based on the Reduction of 25 Male and Female Victims of Obesity—Men Changed More Easily Than Women.

By MARGUERITE DEAN.

WHEN you are Thin and Thirty—Take care lest you be Fat and Forty—Instead of Slim and Sixty!

That is the moral of a story which will interest at least 75 per cent of the men and women in St. Louis—the Regiment of the Rotund, the Companies of the Corpulent. For the story has been written, the story which its author, Antoinette Donnelly, has called "How to Reduce: New Waistlines for Old," and which is published by D. Appleton & Co. The fatness may as well take Miss Donnelly's word for it: in a recent competition with Dr. J. D. Robertson, Chicago Health Commissioner, she reduced 25 male victims of obesity in less time than her opponent could perform the same service for 25 feminine heavyweights.

From correct standing position stretch hands high overhead; bend from trunk and try to touch floor with finger-tips, keeping knees straight. By keeping head and back in a fairly straight line you get a bigger pull on back and arm muscles. And further good may be gained by rising on tiptoes for the bend. Repeat five times.

Assume correct standing position. Hands on hips. Raise right thigh and knee forcibly, with muscles tensed until they are at right angles to the body; lower leg to floor. Do not derange position of trunk, nor relax muscles on lowering knee. Stretch foot to toe tip. Repeat five times. Then with left foot.

"Thirty is the danger age," she begins her good advice to avoid "dupe." "It is the turning point in many a slender career. It is the age when waists generally begin to spread and thicken. It is the age to decide your figure shall have no more birthdays. It is the age to decide whether you are good for 30 years or for 40 years MORE."

"It is the age when the wise young man provides against a possible obstructed view of his feet and a complementary slowing up of his mental processes and the useless waste of years accumulating and ridding oneself of superfluous flesh."

"It is the age when the woman in business and the professional woman must decide whether she is willing to be superseded by a younger person or remain as mentally and physically active as that younger woman."

"It is the age for the woman at home to make a critical appraisal of herself—for the very nature of her life makes the home woman more susceptible to the wiles of Mr. Adipose—and to decide whether she shall set fat on her job in mind and body or keep up with her progressive mate for years and years to come."

"For, after all is said and writ, man is as old as his figure! And woman more so!"

"Since fat contributes in large percentage to the old age bugaboo, how then shall we prevent this wholesale sacrifice to old age and rotundity? By watching the diet and by sufficient daily exercise to keep the weight at approximately the average weight for 30, the age of full maturity."

Each person, as Miss Donnelly points out, has a normal weight proportioned to his or her height. And the scales won't lie, although a high priced corset may camouflage. So her advice is to get on the scales often and get on a diet if you are imitating Hamlet, whose own mother

Maxims of a Modern Maid

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

THE husband whose wife takes his jealousy as a compliment instead of an insult has grounds for real suspicion.

With her squeals, her giggles and her slang, the modern siren is no temptation to the ear, but the man who wants to sail past her should be provided with smoked glasses. Since women are about equally divided between those who admire a handsome man and those darkly suspicious of him, politicians who think that publicity on the ticket will draw out the woman vote had better think twice!

A man thinks no feminine secret hidden from him if he can detect hair six times hemmed and a complexion as loud as a brass band.

A girl tells a lie in order to please, and her brother tells the truth because he hopes it will hurt someone's feelings.

A woman probably will be unhappy if she marries; but if she doesn't her curiosity as to just HOW unhappy she might have been will remain forever unsatisfied.

less flesh and healthier, cleaner blood to testify in their behalf."

DIET "E"

Reduced 20 Pounds in 12 Weeks.

Breakfast.

Grapefruit. One egg. Two or three ounces lean meat or fish.

One slice dry toast.

Black coffee without sugar.

Dinner:

Meat soup (fat carefully skimmed off).

Lean roast beef, 4 to 5 ounces.

Stewed tomatoes, 1 helping.

Spinach, 1 helping.

Unsweetened fruit or half glass orange juice.

Supper:

Two to three ounces cottage cheese.

Unsweetened fruit.

One slice dry toast.

Tea with lemon.

Note—In this diet the big meal is taken at noon to avoid the after-dinner rest. It is not a strenuous diet and is a very good one on which to begin reducing.

DIET "B"

(Reduced 16 Pounds in 6 Weeks.)

This, perhaps, is the simplest diet of all because it affects only one meal a day and the reducing meal (so-called) may be taken at breakfast, luncheon or dinner time. Or it may be taken one day at breakfast, another day at luncheon or another at dinner. The other two meals eaten should be average meals.

Raw carrots and raw celery enough to satisfy, and a half glass of orange juice.

For the home woman who does not need to prepare a luncheon except for herself, what could be easier than to have that meal consist of the above diet? The celery and carrots can be shredded, or chopped and mixed, or eaten separately.

And the sketches show just a few of the exercises which Miss Donnelly thinks should accompany dieting in reducing programs.

Without altering position of shoulders, back or body, bend forward and backward as far as possible, without jerking movement. Repeat five times, gradually increasing.

Without moving head or body, bring hands quickly up the front of the body to the back of the neck; elbows back, finger tips at back of head about three inches apart; hands back to sides again. Repeat.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Buster Bear Hurts a Paw.

BUSTER BEAR remained in his bed under the great pile of fallen trees in the Green Forest until the mud with which he was covered had dried and become uncomfortable. By that time he no longer felt the stings of the bees and hornets. He was still sore from the bumps he had received when he dropped from that Bee-tree and headlessly ran into other trees in his foolish fright, but it was such a relief to be rid of the smart of those stings that Buster hardly minded the bruises.

Late in the afternoon he crept out from his hiding place and went straight to the pond of Paddy the Beaver. With that mud dried in his fur he was the worst-looking Bear that ever walked in the Green Forest. His own mother wouldn't have known him had she met him. No, sir, she wouldn't have known him.

Buster walked straight to Paddy's pond and into it. There for a long time he swam about, and when at last he climbed out on Paddy's dam he was once more a fairly respectable-looking Bear. You see he was rid of all the mud. He shook himself like a great dog and then sat down where the sun would at least partly dry him off.

As he sat there Buster kept thinking about that honey he felt he had been cheated out of by Farmer Brown's boy. The more he tried not to think about it the more he did think about it and the more he thought about it the more he felt that he had been cheated and the more he hated Farmer Brown's boy.

"I wonder if he has taken all that honey," muttered Buster. "Perhaps he has left a little. I think I'll go over there tonight and see. My, I wish I had some of that honey night now. It seems to me I never in all my life wanted anything as I want some honey. If I hadn't had that one little taste it wouldn't be so bad."

The more he thought about it the more restless he became. His common sense told him to keep away from that Bee-tree, but his stomach urged him to go see if there was a chance to get a little of that honey. And Buster was more willing to listen to his stomach than to his common sense. So presently he started off in the direction of that Bee-tree.

It just happened that his way there took him near that stump on which Farmer Brown's boy had left his knife. The last rays of the setting sun touched the bright blade and made it gleam, and that caught Buster's eyes. He stopped short and stared at that knife. Of course, he didn't know it was a knife. To him it was simply something strange and bright and interesting. Slowly and very cautiously he approached it. He walked all around that stump, three times he walked around that stump before he dared go near enough to sniff.

That sniff brought to his nose the scent of Farmer Brown's boy. Buster jumped back with an angry growl. He stared at that little knife with more suspicion than ever. Of course, it didn't move. Buster's course grew wild with it. He saw, he guessed that that queer thing had something to do with Farmer Brown's boy.

Very, very cautiously Buster reached out a big paw and touched that knife with a claw. Nothing happened. Evidently that strange thing was harmless. Sudden rage filled Buster Bear as he again caught that hated scent of Farmer Brown's boy. Like a flash he struck that knife with his paw and sent it flying.

"Wow!" yelled Buster. You see,

UNDERMINING A FRIEND

By Sophie Irene Loeb

THE following story was told to me by Mr. M. He was working in a shop where a number of men were employed. They were doing piecework. That is, they were paid for the amount of work they actually performed.

There came a new employee into this shop who knew very little about the work. At the end of the day this new man told Mr. M. that he hadn't worked for ever so long, that he had a family with several children and that they didn't even have a piece of bread in the house to eat. Whereupon Mr. M. advanced him his day's wages in order to buy food. And continued for days to do this.

It was plainly evident, however, that the newcomer would not be able to hold the job unless he learned more about the trade, so M. "took him in tow," as it were, and stood by him.

Step by step he taught him just as he would one of his own. He worked overtime in his efforts to do this. New kinds of work came into the shop, and these, too, had to be learned.

M. was indefatigable in his efforts to help the man. After a year of hard effort on the part of his Good Samaritan, this fellow was able to do most of the work in the shop. He was most profuse in his gratitude to M.

Now it happened that work became rather slow in this shop and the boss had to shut down part of the work. M. was out of a job for a little while.

Every week he waited to get word to come back, but it did not come. Finally he went around to the place and asked the boss about when he might expect to resume work.

To his astonishment, the boss told him that he had found a man who would do the work of the shop much cheaper, a man who would do his own helping and thus relieve him of the responsibilities, and that M.'s services were no longer required accordingly.

To imagine his surprise and chagrin to find that the man who had replaced him by offering to do the work at a lower price was the very man whom he had taught all he knew about the business.

But somehow, as usual, Nemesis was on the job. The man succeeded in making a considerable sum of money by undermining his benefactor. But almost from that day his troubles began.

His wife died and two of his children. The doctor was forever at the house. The troubles drove this man to heavy drinking and just a short time ago he, too, had to die.

Mr. M. had to change his shop and begin all over again. But success came to him. He, too, has several children, but they are all on a fair road to self-reliance. He has educated them and given them every opportunity.

"I am not sorry that I helped that man as I did," said Mr. M. "I have no malice. But somehow I cannot help but feel that people get paid back for ingratitude."

I don't know how you feel about it, gentle reader. It is a tale of psychology. Yet history is replete with just such instances.

Whether it is coincident or not there is one big truth: Returning evil for good is the surest way to brand one's self very far down in the scale as a human. Grasping the very bread from the mouth of a fellow worker, as it were, is not unlike the beasts of the forest. Certainly it is not good for one to think about late at night when the lights are out.

Dentistry is one of the best paying professions for women in America.

He had struck the sharp edge of the blade and had cut his paw. It wasn't very much of a cut, but it was enough of one to smart and to make his paw bleed a little. But it frightened Buster more than it hurt him. He thought it was a trick of Farmer Brown's boy. And so Buster turned and hurriedly limped away. He would keep away from anything which concerned Farmer Brown's boy.

Home Suggestions

When a dish is cracked, boil it in sufficient sweet milk to cover it for about three-quarters of an hour. This will glue the injured parts together and the crack will be quite invisible. The dish will be perfectly good and give excellent service.

When beating eggs be sure that the platter or bowl in which the egg white is to be beaten is perfectly clean, as a greasy surface will make the eggs difficult to whip.

Washing soda, borax, lye and ammonia cut grease and are good to soften water. Use one teaspoonful of borax, two tablespoons of ammonia to each gallon of water.

Sprinkle salt on a beet stain on table linen while the stain is fresh and let it stand for a while. Then wash in warm water and soap.

Jams are usually made from small fruits crushed to produce a uniform mixture; for example, blackberry jam. Butters are smoother than jams and are made from the fleshy material of large fruits. Spices may be added if desired, for example apple or peach butter. Marmalades contain the fleshy material of large fruits and the skin or rind; for example, grape or orange marmalade. Capers are made of mixtures of fruit, and nuts if desired. The addition of raisins to preserves decreases the amount of sugar needed. Jellies are made from the juices of fruits.

Put a piece of break in the pea soup to prevent the peas from sinking to the bottom and burning. A doughnut recipe which the young cook will readily remember is cleverly given in rhyme:

A cup of sugar, a cup of milk. Two eggs, beaten as fine as silk. A teaspoon of salt, nutmeg—or lemon will do.

Of baking powder, teaspoons two. Lightly stir the flour in. Roll on pie board, not too thin. Fry in lard, and short of burning. Take out just as brown, they're turning.

More industry than he did,
And vowed all Governments were bad
Where honest men succeeded.

His fancied wrongs he sought to right

With shrapnel and with dynamite
And everything but work.
He robbed and pillaged all around,
He burgled everywhere,
Until he cracked a crib and found
A million roubles there.

A million roubles all in gold,
Which tidy little sum Served, on the instant, to remold
This Bolshievik's bum.
No more he deals in dynamite,
The burden of his song
Is that the Governments are right,
And Bolshieviks are wrong.

For once you give a Bolshievik

Thereafter he will only seek
To keep it for himself.

Person Not in Her Class.

To 8-year-old Isabel ever since she has been able to lip has fallen the honor in her family of saying the blessing at meals. Consequently she was indignant the other night when at supper her father transferred this privilege to a clergyman who was a dinner guest.

Isabel had already clasped her hands and was bowing her head preparatory to starting the prayer when her father took the fatal step:
"Mr. Funderkin," he said, "will you say the blessing?"

Isabel shot a baleful look at the guest, but a warning expression on her mother's face silenced the protest.
Apparently submitting, Isabel bowed her head and her lips moved swiftly as Mr. Funderkin murmured the blessing.

The prayer completed, Isabel lifted her head, beaming triumphantly.
"I said the blessing six times while you were saying it once," she told
Mr. Funderkin.—New York Evening

Soon the car reached George's loudly the name of the place:

"George's Cross! George's Cross!"
Then the mother's anger bubbled over and she sprang up excitedly:
"Of course, George's Cross!" she cried, with flashing eyes. "And so would you be if you were cutting your back teeth!"—London Tit Bits.

OLSON'S FIELD WON FOR DODGERS SAYS BILLY EVANS

American League Umpire Declares Shortstop's Work Even Outshone Brilliant Pitching of Sherrod Smith.

By Billy Evans,

American League's Premier Umpire.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—Brooklyn won the third game of the world's series because of the brilliant pitching of Sherrod Smith. As in the two other games, it favored Brooklyn, and with the break came in the first inning. It favored Brooklyn, and with the break came in the first inning. It favored Brooklyn, and with the break came in the first inning.

True, the entire blame for the two runs cannot be directly charged to Caldwell's pitching. Perfect support might have gotten him over the first inning without being scored on, but that is rather doubtful. He got himself in trouble at the very start by passing Olson. Joe Sewell, at short, increased his woe by musing up a grounder from the bat of Griffith. A base hit by Wheat, followed. With the infield back, where it would have been had Sewell not erred, Gardner might have made a play of the ball. Myers followed with a drooping line, that Burns got his gloved hand on, but was unable to hold. All of which netted two runs, enough to win the ball game.

Exit Mr. Ray Caldwell; enter Mr. Walter Mails. The real story of yesterday's ball game can be written around the shortstop. The error by Caldwell paved the way for the undoing of Caldwell. This is in no sense a criticism, because I feel that Sewell is doing himself proud in this series.

Doing Remarkably Well. Dropped into the toughest spot, that any youngster in the history of the game has ever faced, he is doing remarkably well. He is bound to make misplays, all shortstops kick them. His inexperience may hamper him now and then, but his courage is in no way affected. That is what I like about Joe Sewell. When he boots one, or makes a wild throw, his head doesn't drop, he goes right after the next ball as if nothing had happened. After making a wild throw he never eases up on the ball, but cuts loose with all his speed. Joe Sewell is trying his best to fill the shoes of one of the greatest shortstops that ever played in the majors. He is doing a mighty good job of it.

Now for Mr. Olson of Brooklyn. Since the origin of the world's series some great exhibitions have been given by shortstops as Tinker, Scott, Barry, Bancroft, Marquard and others. However, none of them ever came through with a better bit of short stopping than that of Olson in the third game.

"Sherry" Smith pitched a beautiful game for Brooklyn, but Olson short stopped an even better one. He made four plays that simply sparkled, and each and every one of them came to the aid of Smith, when assistance in the field meant everything. Two of the plays were made at the expense of Wambach's.

Sewell's Fumble Proved 'Break' in Third Contest of World's Series

By E. L. MCKILLER,

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 8.—The fact that Tris Speaker and his assistants have come home one down, with six to go, didn't in any way dampen the enthusiasm of his welcome, nor is it going to put the slightest crimp in the determination of Cleveland to resort even to the occult if necessary to root the Indians past and away from Robbie and his gang. Nevertheless, Cleveland has discovered that it is possible for a National League outfit to beat an American League outfit strictly according to Hoyle.

It was noted in Brooklyn that the sympathies of the fans seemed almost equally divided. That was perhaps due to some extent to the fact that a fair percentage of the crowds that saw the game came over from Manhattan, and Manhattanites do not feel any civic obligation to root for Brooklyn. Brooklyn is "outlawed" just as much as Cleveland, so the Manhattanites were generally neutral. Another element in the make-up of the crowd was from the transient population, of which New York naturally has the greatest of any city in the country. Also there is the element of young men of New York and live in New York, nearly all of Connecticut and up in Westchester County. A lot of these attended the game, and they were not at all biased in their opinion. Cleveland did not suffer from any "razing" that could be called unprofessionalism in the slightest degree.

In Cleveland that condition will not obtain. About 25,000 of the best of the city here will be made up of Clevelanders, who are loyal rooters from first to last, and all the time, and they will be helped along as far as it is humanly possible for an intensely partisan crowd to be helped. There will be noisy days ahead at League Park.

The two defeats the Clevelanders suffered after getting away with a victory, haven't caused a lot of disappointment. Naturally, the Clevelanders would like to have had at least one of the lost games, and they have preferred them both. But everyone recognizes that in both games, Brooklyn got all the breaks, and it doesn't require much of a break to give a winning advantage where two Sewell's Error Was Fatal.

Cleveland almost certainly would have won yesterday's game had it not been for the error of Ray Caldwell, laid low by a pitched ball at the Polo Grounds at the most critical period of the American League series.

For the death of Chapman left a hole in the Cleveland infield that Sewell, capable as he does not quite fill. To him, as much as to Smith's pitching skill and the brilliant work of Robbie's infield, was yesterday's result due. His error in the first inning was tremendously costly in direct result and more so indirectly in the already unsteady Caldwell.

Speaker did not offer any explanation as to why he elected to use Caldwell, instead of "Duster" Mails, the pitcher everyone expected to see sent to the mound. Caldwell got off a wild throw, and he was right to be cautious with Olson, for the lively shortstop has been the surprise of the series. He is all heart and all ambition, and he has been a constantly prickling thorn in every inning of each game. Both in attack and defense he has been doing unexpectedly brilliant work. Caldwell evidently feared him and in trying to shave the corners too closely, passed him. No one who has seen Caldwell's brilliant work would be surprised to find him needed to even try to read the signals to know Johnston would sacrifice, and he did. That put a man on second with only one down, which was promising enough, but Sewell spilled the beans.

Wheat and Myers Hit.

The shot Griffith sent at him came straight and true. There was no twist or unexpected bound to perplex him. The ball went squarely into his hands. And out it popped. It looked more like sheer carelessness than anything else. It got Olson to third.

—perhaps Sewell was figuring on making a play for Olson and summed up his chances in his mind—and it put Griffith on first. Into this situation marched Wheat and found a wobbly Caldwell facing him. He cut in on the single that sent Olson home and Griffith to second, and then Myers dropped one in front right. The Browns really should have got for the single that brought Griffith in from second. And those two runs won the ball game.

Speaker sent Mails in, then and "Duster" pitched like a Trojan and showed himself a sharp fielding pitcher, too. His capture of Smith's piffing fly on an attempted sacrifice and his sharp peg to first to double Miller before he could scramble back to the bag in the second inning was nifty work. Four hits, two by Wheat, one by Olson and one by Myers, were made off his defense in the 3-2 inning he worked. And one of Wheat's was an infield rapped at that, the other three being singles.

But for Sewell's error in the first, but one of the two runs would have scored, assuming Caldwell would have been found in the fourth hit that followed the bobble, so Speaker's run in the fourth would have tied the game.

There were four fast double plays in the game, an unusual number. And just as won't be overlooked how badly things were breaking for Cleveland, O'Neill, who made two of Cleveland's three hits, was the first in each of the double plays made by Brooklyn.

Club Matches Tomorrow.

The division play-off for the club tennis championship of the city will start Saturday afternoon at the Tennis Club. Winners in the various divisions of the St. Louis District Tennis Association are as follows: Suburban, Triple A, Central, Delmar Tennis Club; Municipal, Forest Park T. C.; Western, Lechman A. C. and Southern, Magnolia. Pairings and contestants will be announced Saturday.

And Now, Gents, I'll Tell You What Charley Ebbets Has Did for Us

"In Fact He's Doing Things for Everybody," Says Lardner, "for Inst. Look What He Done for Cleveland, Leaving Joe Sewell What Ain't Eligible, Play Anyhow as a Favor."

By Ring W. Lardner.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 8.—We may not get back to Brooklyn no more this year and I want to take this here opportunity to speak in defense of Charley Ebbets, the Master Mind of the Brooklyn club which is now 1 up and 6 to go. A lot of prejudiced and unfair cooties that is writing baseball has more than hinted that the man that said a fool and money was soon parted, made the statement several years before Charley was born and didn't have him in mind at all so he don't need to get so nervous thinking he has been called a fighting man.

Now leave us look into the facts of the case. There's a lot of signs around Ebbets Field which reads "Gov. Smith gave us Sunday baseball. Vote for him." Now although it is Mr. Ebbets's own ball park and not Gov. Smith's ball park they're no sign to tell the people what Charley has given us and the public might remain in ignorance if I didn't step out and tell them.

"What Charley Done for Us."

Well, in the first place he has given us books of press tickets with 8 coupons in each book and each coupon leaves us in free to a ball game, so if this serious group of 15 games and 8 of them is played at the Brooklyn park the newspaper boys that is still living won't half be so mad at him. He has given us one of Charley's friends told me today that if it was necessary to play more than 8 games in the Brooklyn park that Charley was going to leave the park in 1/4 far regardless of age.

In the 2d place the Cleveland club was up against it for a short stop for the serious because Sewell didn't join the club till it was too late for him to be eligible so President Jim Dunn of the Browns said Charley if he would wave the rules and leave Sewell play and Charley says "Klum" which is coming out for yes. Well, I was present at the signing of the contract and I heard somebody tell Charley that it was mighty nice of him to leave Sewell play and Charley said he was glad to say that he was always glad to do somebody a favor. A bird that had bet on Cleveland in today's game came along just then and overheard the remark and said, "Favor he—!"

Making It Easy for the Boys.

In the 3d place some of the boys of the journalistic proff have been making dirty remarks about the banquet that was served in the press room at Comiskey park and Redland Field last fall and when you go up in the press room over to Charley's field you face 2 kinds of sandwiches ham and cheese, which are maybe named after some of the athletes or the writers in these remarks as the last thing a baseball writer comes to is to eat, and I seen more than 1 such turn turtle just looking at the food which Comiskey and Herrmann offered them last year whereas we all left for Cleveland last night feeling as if as Comiskey, Herrmann and I were going to try and decide whether you want venison and muskie and kaiterschnitt and pie a la mode or vegetable soup and roast pig and mashed potatoes and chop suey.

In the 4th place I know personally that a proposition was put up to Charley to follow the examples of Pittsburgh and Cincinnati and play 8 of these here world series games in 1 day for 1 admission but he turned it down cold on the spot.

I might go on pulling gags on this here subject till inauguration day but they're a train to catch so I will close this time by telling you boys that Ping Bodie and a couple of friends come out to the park Wednesday to see the game and Ping says:

"My name is Bodie, how much is a box seat? And they told him $6.00 a smash, and Ping says: 'I wouldn't pay no $6.00 to see no ball game.' Neither would I, Signor Pizzola."

CARDINAL BARNSTORMERS BEATEN BY PIRATES

PORTAGE, Wis., Oct. 8.—Pittsburg won the series of Cardinals before 370 persons yesterday, 5 to 2, in a hard-fighting game. The feature was Southworth's home run, scoring Carey in the opening inning. North struck out two and Carlson three. The deciding game of the series will be played here tomorrow afternoon, with Hamilton, former Brown pitcher, for Pittsburg and Haines for St. Louis.

Hibschman Beats Briscoe.

The final round of the annual singles tennis championship of the Sunday School Athletic Association was won by J. Hibschman. He defeated Earl Briscoe in three closely fought sets. The score was 6-2, 7-5, 6-4. Last year the Sunday School title was won by Melvin Miltzsch.

Teague and Cole Meet in Feature Fight at Armory

Both Boys in Good Condition, Workouts at Local Gymnasium Indicate.

Tommy Teague of Muncie, Ind., and Billy Cole of this city, will step into the ring at the First Regiment Armory tonight for their second encounter in this city. The boys are to box four rounds and, judging by their work at the Business Men's gymnasium, in training for the event, the fur will fly this evening.

Teague won on a foul, when the boys met the first time, but Cole is considered one of the best boys at his weight in this vicinity, and is expected to give a good account of himself tonight.

The men will travel "in high," owing to the abbreviated limit of this and all other contests on this card. Teague has won three out of four bouts here, his only defeat being by Frankie Tucker. Teague had fought at Terre Haute, Ind., the night before.

Bobby Weiss, who made a good impression on the occasion of his first professional appearance, will show again tonight against Battling Marlow of East St. Louis. Both boys figure on even terms.

Walter Helmer will referee all the bouts.

The complete card: Tommy Teague, Muncie, Ind., vs. Billy Cole, St. Louis, 125 pounds.

Bobbie Weiss, St. Louis, vs. Battling Marlow, East St. Louis, 135 pounds.

Tommy Cole, St. Louis, vs. Harry Roth, St. Louis, 145 pounds.

Leo Naumann, St. Louis, vs. Grub Weller, St. Louis, 155 pounds.

Pete Williams, St. Louis, vs. Louis Klein, St. Louis, 165 pounds.

Mike Burns, St. Louis, vs. Edmond Francis, St. Louis, 175 pounds.

Willie Scanlon, St. Louis, vs. Leo Abernathy, East St. Louis, 185 pounds.

Assistant Piker Coach Arrives and Makes It Known

Matthew Brown, the new assistant coach at Washington University, arrived at the Pikeaway yesterday afternoon. For about the first hour and a half of practice, not a player on the red and green squad knew that Brown was on the scene. He just "kept looking."

Then all of a sudden Brown stopped the proceedings and started out with a general dressing-down that reverberated throughout the environs of University City. He started with the captain and finished with the meanest scrub. He made every member on the squad eat dirt and made the alumni attendants forget the verbal hurricane during the halcyon days of Bill Edmonds.

Mr. Brown is something new and much needed on the Pikeaway.

Yesterday's work was a long scrimmage and was stiff enough to send Hafner, Berger and a couple of "scrubs" to the showers nursing injuries. A signal practice had been programmed for today, but after yesterday's storm no one can tell what will happen.

YEATMAN HIGH DEFEATS CENTRAL TENNIS TEAM

In the high school tennis matches played at Triple A yesterday Yeatman made a clean sweep of its matches from Central, while Soidan had the advantage of its matches with Cleveland. Match dropped because of darkness will be played Monday or Tuesday.

The results follow: Danner, Yeatman, defeated Riehl, Central, 6-1, 6-0.

Eckertoff, Yeatman, defeated Gochal, Central, 6-1, 6-0.

Carleton, Yeatman, defeated Ford, Central, 6-1, 6-2.

Kraus and Harting, Yeatman, defeated Cooper and Jackson, Central, 6-2, 6-0.

Wheeler and Soidan, Yeatman, defeated Griesedieck, Cleveland, 6-2, 6-4.

White-schneider match halted by darkness after White of Soidan lost 6-7 and won 10-8.

Burnett, Soidan, defeated Clark, Cleveland, 6-2, 6-0.

Bierman and Hawkins of Yeatman won one set, 11-9, from Bush and Gutierrez of Cleveland. The second set was tied 4-4 when darkness prevented further play.

Tiger Gridiron Squad Arrives for Billiken Game Tomorrow

Twenty-Two Tiger Varsity Players Here for Clash at Sportsman's Park—First Meeting Between Two Institutions Since 1911—State School Machine Favored to Win.

Twenty-two members of the University of Missouri football squad and Head Coach Johnny Miller arrived this morning and registered at a downtown hotel. The State school players were scheduled this morning to take an automobile trip through the county, and will indulge in a light signal workout at Sportsman's Park, this afternoon.

Tomorrow's game between the Tiger team and St. Louis University will be the first all-out contest between the two institutions since 1911. The teams met in 1904, 1905, 1910, and 1911, the local institution winning each game; and holding inviolate its goal-line in the four meetings.

The State school team, however, comes to town as the favorite for tomorrow's game. Coach Miller has the greater part of the team that won the Missouri Valley Conference championship, while Coach Rademacher had to add to the remnants of the eleven, which met with only varying success last year.

Tigers Have Weight Advantage. Missouri's team has the advantage in both weight and experience. The Billikens will average around 170 pounds, while the Tigers will come closer to 180. The Tigers have been at actual practice since September 1, and have the advantage of a three-man coaching staff. Their only contest gave them a 41 to 0 victory over Missouri Wesleyan. The Billikens defeated the Southeast Missouri Teachers' College, 29 to 0, and Rose Poly, 12 to 0.

The local collegians went through their last scrimmage practice, yesterday afternoon, facing a team of "frosh" and alumni. Finnan, Webb and Dubroulet were kept out of the mixup in order to be in shape for tomorrow. Coach Rademacher is certain of only one change from his lineup of last Saturday. Dubroulet will start at a guard position in place of Grone. There is still some uncertainty whether Manley or Matheson will start at end.

Auto Parade Today.

Almost all of the reserved seats have been sold while there are only a few field boxes left.

The St. Louis U. student body will have an automobile parade through the downtown streets this afternoon. Tonight the Billiken adherents will assemble at a mass meeting.

Not to be outdone the local alumni of the State school have planned a dinner and pep session at a downtown hotel for tonight. Several hundred Columbia students and the R. O. T. C. band will arrive late this afternoon and whoop things up tonight.

Both the teams are nicely matched and no gambling plot was hatched. For the series is no doubt upon the square.

They are going nip and tuck. Of the melon will receive the lion's share.

BOY, PAGE MR. BURLISON.

Mails arrived too late. Looks like the game was opened by mistake.

RECKLESS GUYS.

Today being an open date, the demon gamblers are laying even money that neither side scores a run.

We take it that in the future ballplayers will not refer to the bases as the "pillows."

Nor will they listen to the voice of the tempter in order to purchase seakins sacks and automobiles for the "wife and kiddies."

The popular route from first to second will be the straight and narrow path.

There are two Johnstons and two Smiths playing in the world's series. But there is only one Wambach.

Loughlin Whips Rostan.

TULSA, Ok., Oct. 8.—Willie Loughlin of New Bethlehem, Pa., was the referee's decision over Navy Rostan of Chicago in a slow 12-round bout here last night. The men are welterweights.

Man O'War and Sir Barton Are Ready for Race

Thoroughbreds Will Be Given
Stiff Workout at Kenilworth
Tomorrow or Sunday.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 8.—Man o' War and Sir Barton arrived here safely yesterday, the former from New York and the latter from Maryland, for their special race at one mile and a quarter next Tuesday for a purse of $75,000 and a $5000 gold cup.

Both horses are safely installed at the Kenilworth Park track and both, according to their trainers, stood the journey well and are in fine condition.

Sir Barton, the 4-year-old son of Star Shoot, which will represent J. K. L. Rose, arrived first, in charge of H. Guy Bedwell, his trainer.

In the special express car also were S. Dodd, who always plates Sir Barton; "Toots" Thompson, his chief groom, and Carroll Shilling, the one-time jockey, who is now an assistant to Bedwell. It should not be overlooked that "Wolf," the dog which has become an inseparable companion of Sir Barton, also was in the car.

Man o' War, Samuel D. Riddle's wonder horse, did not leave New York until 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening and consequently he did not arrive here until late yesterday afternoon. He was under the personal guidance of Louis Feustel, his trainer, and two or three attendants.

He looked the perfect picture of a thoroughbred and he stepped gingerly out of the car and was led away to his newly-built box stall at the Kenilworth Park track.

Both horses will be jogged in the morning, and in all probability both will get a stiff workout over the track on Saturday or Sunday.

If looks count for anything, little more work is needed, as both appear to be in perfect condition for what promises to be one of the greatest races in the long history of the turf.

Man o' War is the favorite here, but Sir Barton seems to have many followers, as Guy Bedwell insists that the 3-year-old will have to run the race of his life to win.

The two horses will meet at weight for age—126 pounds on Sir Barton and 120 pounds on Man o' War.

ST. LOUIS U. HIGH IS VICTOR OVER YEATMAN
ELEVEN BY 14-0 SCORE
The St. Louis University High School eleven defeated Yeatman High School team, 14 to 0, in a practice game at the former's campus, yesterday afternoon.

The victor's scoring was done in the first half. Halfback Rice went around right and made a 45-yard run for a touchdown, eluding the entire North Side team, in the first quarter, and Right End Boyce caught a pretty forward pass from Thornton, quarter, on Yeatman's five-yard line, and ran the rest of the distance for the second score.

Both touchdowns resulted indirectly from Yeatman fumbles. The Yeatman runner dropped the ball in mid-field when he was tackled hard in the first quarter, and the quarter back ran the ball into the waiting arms of a St. Louis U. Player on an attempted forward pass in the second. Halfback Rice of St. Louis U. was the outstanding star throughout the game, making good gains whenever he got the ball and breaking up many Yeatman plays.

MISS ENDICOTT AND MRS. CASSETT WINNERS
Mrs. Myrtle Cassett and Millicent Endicott won the women's doubles city tennis championship at Triple A yesterday by defeating Mary K. Voorhees and Etta Norver in the final round. The score was 6-2, 8-6, 6-4.

The result was a surprise. Play in the married couples tourney has reached the final round which will be played at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. James Brady will oppose Dr. and Mrs. Canouse and a close contest is expected.

How the Strike Against High Prices Is Being Won

For a long time, remarks the New York Times, "high prices seemed like the weather, about which, as Mark Twain said, everybody talked but nothing was done." Then the buying public, reacting at last from the wave of extravagance that swept the country in war time, began a few months ago to rebel against the ever diminishing purchasing power of the dollar. The result of this action is seen in the dramatic price cuttings in the wholesale market last month, which affected wheat, corn, oats, wool, cotton, automobiles, textiles, clothing, foodstuffs, metal, leather, and many other commodities. The wholesale prices of these commodities have declined on the average about 20% below the high prices of February, according to R. E. Edmundson of the New York News Record, a commercial daily, who predicts that these cuts are "certain to be reflected in a reduced cost of living—removing the usual excuses for striking to get higher wages." Dispatches from various cities report that the procession of falling prices in the retail trade has already begun.

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, October 9th, will be read with great satisfaction by the public. It gives a comprehensive review, drawn from all sources of information, of the conditions of trade in the United States, including the prospects of the country's getting back on a lower price level without affecting the hours or wages of labor.

Why Stay Fat?

The answer of most fat people is that exercise and dieting is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous a method to force the weight down. However, in Marmola Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or violent exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. One little tablet after each meal and at bedtime—as pleasant to eat as candy—will reduce your weight two, three or four pounds a week. A good size box is sold by druggists at the reasonable price of one dollar, or if preferable they may be obtained by sending the amount to the Marmola Co., 94 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich. They will reach you by mail, prepaid, in plain, sealed cover. Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce three or four pounds a week without loss of bed after-effects.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rum and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for the druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies. Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable, cold and cough remedy for infants and children.

PATROLMAN DISMISSED
FOR BEING INTOXICATED

Member of Force for 14 Years Says Family Having Party Gave Him Drinks.

At a special meeting of the Police Board yesterday, to hear charges that had accumulated during the vacation period, Patrolman John J. Kraemer of the Page Boulevard Station, who had been in the department 14 years, was dismissed for being intoxicated on duty.

On the morning of Aug. 15 a woman telephoned that there was an intoxicated policeman on Ella Avenue. Capt. Schwartz went out in his automobile and found Kraemer trying to lift a mired automobile out of the mud. He was taken to the station and suspended. Before the board he pleaded guilty. He explained that a family on Bartmer Avenue, that was having a party, invited him in and gave him three drinks of whiskey and two of champagne. The "stuff" had an awful kick," he said, and when he went off duty at 7 a. m., he hailed a passing automobile and asked the driver to take him home. The machine mired, and he was doing his best to lift it when the Captain arrived.

Roger Hart, in charge of the Baden subdistrict, admitted that on Sept. 8, when Capt. Hanna dropped in, he was abusive and called the Captain some hard names. It was all because, he said, it was a very wet morning and he was chilled and he had drunk some of the evidence in a raisin whiskey case that was at the station and it was the kick in it that made him talk that way. On account of his long service and good record, the case was taken under advisement.

Patrolman Thomas Walsh of the Newstead Avenue Station, who was found with a scalp wound in the hallway of the Lammann & Taylor Building, Euclid Avenue and Delmar Boulevard, pleaded not guilty to intoxication. He said he took a soft drink at the advertising men's meeting at the Belvidere roof garden and became dizzy and remembered nothing more. He thought, he fell down stairs, but he was not sure. The case was dismissed without prejudice.

Patrolman William Harkroder was fined $125 and given 125 demerits for talking back to his Captain when he was admonished about his dusty uniform and shoes. Patrolman Isaac L. Barton was fined $100 and given 100 demerits for absents himself from his beat. Patrolman Edward Dreier was fined $20 and given 20 demerits for absents himself from his beat.
